MAJORITY OF UNIONS FAVOR ACCEPTANCE OF WAGE AWARD

Only Railway Telegraphers Urge Rejection and Taking of a Strike Ballot—Conductors Undecided—Others Accept or Will Recommend Acceptance of Award.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, July 22.—Representatives of the railway unions, after a hot meeting which lasted until early today, were divided over the question of accepting or rejecting the wage award granted the rail workers of the country by the United States Railroad Labor Board.

Seven of the unions, including three of the four largest brotherhoods, were reported to have accepted, or favored acceptance, of the award in its entirety and without reservation. Several others, it was declared, favored referring the award to the rank and file of their organization, with the recommendation that it be accepted. Two were reported as being in favor of bringing the award to a referendum of their members, without recommendations. One was reported to have rejected the award flatly and to have ordered the taking on a strike ballot, and one to have failed to reach a decision on the issue.

It is possible that concerted action of all the brotherhood representatives may yet be agreed upon, perhaps on a compromise agreement sending the award to a referendum vote of the 1,800,000 rail workers of the country. Many of the brotherhood chiefs declared they would work for this as the grand council reconvened today.

Many bitter disagreements occurred during the all night meeting and at times the union chiefs made hot verbal attacks on each other. At one time S. M. Heberling, president of the Switchmen's Union of North America, arose and declared that W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, who was leading a fight for acceptance of the award without reservations, should be barred from the conference if he persisted in the arguments he was making.

Here is the way the unions were reported to be divided early today:

For acceptance of the award:

Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Switchmen's Union of North America, United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employes and Railroad Shop Laborers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers and Masters, Mates and Pilots of America.

For referring the award to the rank and file with a recommendation that it be accepted:

International Association of Machinists, Sheet Metal Workers' International Alliance, Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employes, Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, International Brotherhood of Boiler Makers, Iron Shipbuilders and Helpers of America and the International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths, Drop Forgers and Helpers.

For referring the award to the rank and file without recommendations:

Brotherhood of Railway Signalmen and the Employes Department of the American Federation of Labor.

For rejection and the taking of a strike ballot:

Order of Railway Telegraphers.

Undecided:

Order of Railway Conductors.

PASSENGER RATES TO BE INCREASED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 22.—An increase in railway passenger rates of ½ cent per mile throughout the country appeared to be the basis for raising additional revenue for the railways to meet increased wages, when the rate committee of the Railway Executives' Association resumed its session here today.

The increase of ½ cent per mile will raise $200,000,000 and an additional increase of eight or nine per cent on freight rates will net another $300,000,000. The committee has been unable to agree on the means of raising the remaining $100,000,000 needed to meet the $600,000,000 wage increase granted the employes by the railway labor board.

The ½ cent a mile increase in railway passenger rates will not be recommended until an entirely new method for raising money is adopted because of the inability of the committee to agree to the proposals for raising the $100,000,000 not yet provided for. A sur-charge on all Pullman patrons and additional charges for baggage are among the propositions being considered.

BLACK CAT DID IT.

Resolute's Hoodoo is Now on Board the Shamrock.

By Telegraph to The Freeman

Highlands, N. J., July 22.—Whatever the quarterdeck may think, Resolute's crew knew that her luck has turned. The black cat which found its way on board Resolute in dry dock and which the crew have not dared to throw overboard for fear of catastrophe, night before last slipped on a tugboat that was alongside and got itself transferred to Shamrock, where the tug made her next call.

Shamrock sailed the race yesterday with Resolute's black cat aboard, in the forecastle, this is the simple and effective explanation of the change of luck which Resolute ran into, bringing the kind of weather and wind she wanted and sending her through the race without accident.

The men before the mast on the white cup defender now know well enough how the races are going to end.

Benefit Dance Tickets Going.

Factories and stores are being canvassed by ticket sellers for the benefit dance for Mrs. Houser, by the Progressive Social Club, and a large crowd, with a consequent goodly sum for Mrs. Houser, seems assured from the ready response. Mrs. Houser is the mother of Thomas Houser who was one of the ball players killed in the Knickerbocker auto accident some weeks ago and her husband also died a short time ago. The dance will be held at Kingston Point Casino on August 2, with Pearce's orchestra furnishing the music.

Clearing Up Hasbrouck Cemetery.

A representative of every plot owner is asked to attend a clearing up day in the Hasbrouck Cemetery at Mt. Tremper on Tuesday, July 27. A hatchet and garden rake will be the tools needed. Hot coffee will be served. If stormy, some next clear day. Trucks will be given for the new hay which are ready to sell.

"OUTLAWS" REJECT WAGE AWARD

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Columbus, Ohio, July 22.—The 2,300 members of the "outlaw" organization, the Columbus Yardmen's Association here, have rejected unanimously the wage award announced by the Federal Railroad Labor Board, according to announcement made by B. B. Callahan, president of the association. Callahan said association members will not return to work until all their demands are met.

BABY STRANGLES.

Wedged Between Bed and Wall in Poughkeepsie Home.

Caroline May Burnett, eight months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burnett of 7 Jefferson street, Poughkeepsie, fell out of bed and was found strangled to death. Her neck had become wedged between the bed and the wall in such a way as to prevent respiration.

Laying the child on the bed a short time before having a quarrel with a neighbor, the mother, Mrs. Burnett, due to the excitement, went into a convulsion, Coroner John A. Card stated. On coming out of the convulsion she thought of the child she had left asleep on the bed, and going to see if the baby was all right, discovered her fastened between the bed and the wall. She removed the child from this position but the little body was limp. As soon as she found that the baby was dead she screamed for help and some neighbors responded to her call. They worked over the infant in an effort to resuscitate her, but life was extinct.

Coroner Card announced he would hold an inquest at a later date.

The child was just able to move about on the bed and evidently had worked her way to the edge and had fallen over, the coroner said.

Benefit For Industrial Home.

Miss Emelia Riccobono and pupils in aesthetic dancing and piano-forte playing will give a most delightful entertainment for the benefit of the little folks at the Industrial Home, on Tuesday evening next, July 27th, at St. Joseph's Hall. Besides the dances and piano-forte solos of the pupils, Miss Riccobono will also appear in a few interpretive dances, and the program will be further varied by violin solos played by Richard Meyer. The full program will appear in a later issue of The Freeman. Tickets may be purchased from Miss Riccobono's pupils or at the door on the evening of the entertainment. The young people and their teacher hope to net a nice sum for the benefit of the Industrial Home.

Goes Motor Boat Rack.

Jacob R. Pindar of Rhinecliff has recovered his motorboat which was stolen Tuesday and the prominent yachtsman who took it to Catskill was also brought to Rhinecliff. He gave his name as Robert O'Connell, a war veteran and resident of Albany. O'Connell was taken in custody by John Delmore, a night watchman at the Catskill night line pier, about 12 o'clock Tuesday evening after he had moored the boat to the pier and was seeking to buy gasoline.

DISCHARGED MAN SHOOTS FOREMAN

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, July 22.—Jack Scalia, thirty-four years old, of Newark, N. J., a foreman in the men's clothes plant of Forman and Clark of Watervliet, was shot dead yesterday in the offices of the plant, by Peter D'Alesandro, an Italian of Watervliet, who went under the name of John Daley. He is a former worker at the plant who recently had been discharged by Scalia. Scalia was slain during a pistol duel in the plant office in which thirteen shots were exchanged by him and D'Alesandro. The duel was fought through a partition, and Scalia fired five shots in trying to "get" his man first. He was an Italian, like D'Alesandro. Previous to the slaying D'Alesandro had threatened the life of the superintendent of the plant. That the murder was premeditated is indicated in the fact that D'Alesandro drove to the plant with a horse and sulky and called for Scalia. The murderer tried to escape in the rig, and tried to kill a pursuer who followed him in an automobile. The pursuer drove the car into the fugitive's rig, demolishing it.

Last night state troopers, police and deputy sheriffs were searching for D'Alesandro in the woods between Watervliet and Schenectady, along the Troy-Schenectady road, he having escaped into the woods after his rig was wrecked. It was believed he was trying to reach Schenectady where he has friends. He was formerly proprietor of a place in Schenectady at 145 Edison avenue. He has a wife, and a son, seven years old, at Watervliet.

According to Schenectady police, D'Alesandro was arrested several times on different charges regarding his place and was last arrested charged with receiving stolen goods. He was tried and convicted, it is said, of this charge and was compelled to leave the city, after selling his place.

Soon after the murder Watervliet police raided his home, on the advice of federal officers, it is said, and found a "home" making plant, as well as four hogsheads and one barrel of light red wine. Mrs. D'Alesandro said she thought it was vinegar. The police found the liquor and equipment in a sub cellar of the house, which had a tunnel leading to the rear yard. It is declared that D'Alesandro had been peddling his home made wine through Watervliet and vicinity by the jugful. The wine was taken to police headquarters in an auto truck, by Chief Corbett and a group of raiders.

While the trouble over has place at the Forman and Clark plant is given as the chief motive for the shooting, it also is believed that D'Alesandro suspected Scalia was giving information to the police regarding his "bootlegging" activities, D'Alesandro's home was guarded all night by police.

TROLLEY HEARING NEXT MONDAY

Chairman Hill of Public Service Commission Will Hold Hearing Here on Application to Abandon Colonial Tracks.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, July 22.—The Kingston Consolidated Railroad has made application to the public service commission, second district, for approval of declarations by its directors and ratified by the stockholders for abandonment of parts of its line in Kingston as follows:

On and through Wall street and Main street lying between North Front street and Fair street.

On and through Main street and Clinton avenue and lying between Fair street and St. James street.

On and through Clinton avenue, Cedar street and Broadway, lying between St. James street and intersection of Broadway and Thomas street.

On and through Prince street and Hasbrouck avenue and lying between the point of the switch at the northerly end of curve in track in Dederick street and Delaware avenue.

On and through Hasbrouck avenue, and lying between Delaware avenue and East Strand.

Chairman Charles B. Hill will give a hearing on the company's application at the court house in Kingston on Monday, July 26, at 2 o'clock.

The company, in its petition to the public service commission, alleges that the parts of its road to be abandoned are no longer necessary for successful operation of the road or for the convenience of the public, specifying in detail the reasons in support of its request to abandon the five sections.

The company further states that while it has been operating under a six cent fare since April 15, 1919, its income for 1920 will not be substantially increased. Operating expenses it is stated, were increased because of wage increases in January last, that the former Colonial line has never earned operating expenses and that it has been operated at less than the cost of operation and taxes, this tending to make general operation within Kingston unprofitable.

If it is permitted to abandon the parts of its line, the company says, there will be a saving in operation of the road and it can be operated at a profit, cars can be run more frequently and greatly promote the convenience of travelers and the interests of the public generally.

ROTARIANS WILL VISIT PORT JERVIS

Owing to the inability of Colonel Crissy to come to Kingston next week the Rotary Club will not hold an evening meeting next Wednesday but will have the regular noonday luncheon at which special reports on boys' work will be given by William S. Eltinge and others. Next Thursday a large delegation of Kingston Rotarians expect to visit Port Jervis, where there is to be an open air meeting in the afternoon and dinner in the evening at Neversink Beach. Rotarians Burgevin, Thompson and Stull are the committee in charge of this pilgrimage, to whom those intending to go should report at once. Already twenty persons, including several ladies, have stated that they will make the trip.

Sunday School Outing.

The Sunday School of the St. James Church will be given an auto drive around the Ashokan Boulevard to Watson Hollow on Saturday of this week. The start will be from the Sunday school at half past twelve instead of half past ten, as announced on Sunday. All should endeavor to be at the church by the noon hour, that there may be no delay. The return trip will be in the early evening, so that the arrival home may be in good time.

Success Pending.

Charles P. DeWitt, an experienced graduate of Spencer's Business School, Inc., has secured an excellent position as assistant traffic manager with the United Clear Stone Company of America, main office, 44 West 18th street, New York city. His many Kingston friends will be pleased to learn of his rapid advancement in the business world.

RESOLUTE WINS BY HANDICAP

Both Cup Yachts Cover Course In Exactly Same Time, Resolute's Time Allowance Letting Her Win Her First Race.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 22.—Captain William P. Burton of Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger IV, is taking no chances in the green slope not being in ship-shape for the next international cup race. After sailing on even terms against the Resolute and losing by the time allowance Skipper Burton hoisted the signal for a day of grace and the big yacht was hauled out in drydock at Staten Island today to be scraped and polished. The Shamrock's skipper evidently believes that under fair sailing conditions, such as prevailed Wednesday, the challenger has her work cut out to win the deciding race. While Shamrock was given a thorough overhauling today, Resolute was also subjected to a "house cleaning" and both will be spick and span for tomorrow's race.

The contest will be another triangular affair with at least one leg of reaching. Under certain conditions this sort of race will favor Shamrock.

As a result of Resolute's speedy showing in Wednesday's contest, many of those who were ready to concede the cup to the challenger are today expressing the belief that Resolute stands almost as good as an even chance of winning.

Each boat has scored one clean victory out of the three complete races sailed, but Resolute has two distinct advantages over the graen sloop. One is her time allowance of seven minutes, one second, which is a big handicap. The other is the fine seamanship of her skipper, Charles Francis Adams, and the machine-like smoothness that marks the working of her crew.

The weather, however, will undoubtedly play a most important role in determining the winner. The weather man has a trump card in reserve—a card that may be played against either yacht. In a moderate sailing breeze, barring accidents, Resolute has proved herself a wonderful racer. In light breezes, both yachts have behaved queerly.

Should heavy weather prevail in one of the remaining races it will be interesting to see how well Shamrock can live up to her reputation as a heavy sea boat. Even under these conditions, the pranks of the weatherman and the whims of fate might reverse the accepted order of things.

With but one more victory needed, Shamrock was a ruling favorite today, but not by long odds, for Resolute is far from beaten.

Resolute's victory in Wednesday's race for the America's cup makes the score 2 to 1 in favor of the Shamrock IV and to retain the trophy the American yacht must win the next two contests.

Wednesday's was one of the most remarkable battles in the history of yacht racing especially during the last few miles where the yachts slid along with first one and then the other a few yards ahead. The challenger finally crossed the line 19 seconds ahead of Resolute, the exact advantage she had possessed crossing the starting line, but lost the race on account of the time allowance of 7 minutes, 1 second, to the Resolute.

The race was run by both boats in 4 hours, 3 minutes, 6 seconds, the official time.

The next race will be sailed tomorrow over a triangular course of 30 miles, 10 miles to the leg.

CITY WATER TO REMAIN PURE

Water Supply Not Threatened by Scarcity of Purifying Chemicals—Warning Issued by Public Health Service—Capital District Hit Hard.

Foresight on the part of the Kingston board of water works will prevent a dearth in the supply of chemicals for purifying the city water. While cities of the capital district and other sections of the state and country are worrying along with only a month's supply of chemicals on hand, the local board is "sitting pretty" with a large quantity at the filter house.

Warnings had been sent out by the public health service of the danger of their being a shortage of the purifying chemicals, but long before that the local board saw what was coming and ordered a large quantity.

Those cities whose supplies are low are facing a serious health menace. Cohoes has been in desperate straits for seven weeks, being forced to borrow from Albany, Watervliet and Rensselaer. Albany and Watervliet have but a month's supply on hand. Schenectady and Troy are said to be safe, using small quantities of copperas sulphate. Rensselaer has sufficient chemicals for five months.

A Washington dispatch gives the following warning:

The water supply of at least 30,000,000 is in danger of becoming infected with disease because of the impossibility of obtaining purifying chemicals. A statement to this effect was issued by the public health service Tuesday.

BELFAST RIOTS ARE CONTINUED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, July 22—Reinforcements of British troops have been rushed to Belfast following the outbreak of fighting late yesterday when one person was reported to have been killed and 30 others wounded, said a dispatch from Belfast today.

The Belfast correspondent of the Evening News reported that the British troops were erecting barbed wire entanglements between the Sinn Fein and Unionists positions, while a cordon of troops has been thrown around the "trouble area."

There were several outbreaks of fire during the night and a number of buildings, including six saloons, were looted.

A deputation of Unionists called at 10 Downing street to discuss the situation with Premier Lloyd George.

There have been many important developments in Ireland in the past 48 hours.

The police broke up a meeting of a Sinn Fein committee that was sitting at Carrick-on-Shannon to investigate the industrial resources of the counties of Leitrim and Roscommon. Colonel Wells, chairman of the Roscommon county council and Darrel Figgis were arrested.

A train that was carrying food to the British troops at Dungloe was halted by masked men and the food stores destroyed.

Near Dungarvin, two constables and a sergeant were held up and disarmed.

The Sinn Fein court at Mullingar was dispersed by troops who dashed up in an armoured car.

Ten grand jurors were fined $250 each for their refusal to serve at the Cork assizes.

In the Clonmel district two attempts were made to attack the barracks of the Royal Irish Constabulary, but the attackers were driven off. The roads were blocked and wires cut over a radius of 15 miles.

Dail Eireann (the Sinn Fein parliament) has issued a proclamation calling for a suspension of trials involving the Irish land claims "while the Irish people are engaged in a life and death struggle with the enemy."

Latest advices from Belfast show that a deliberate attempt was made to stir up antipathy between the Unionists and Sinn Feiners. Writings in white chalk have appeared upon buildings and walls within the past week. One read: "The rebels got your jobs while you were fighting."

Some of these bore signatures of unionists organizations.

In one locality Sinn Feiners were driven into the Lazan river and had to swim for their lives, it was said. During the evening Unionists began to stop street cars in their search for Sinn Fein workmen. The Sinn Feiners began to retaliate and then troops interfered. Belfast being an Ulster city, the population is largely Unionist or anti-Sinn Fein.

During the early part of the night women took part in the rioting. They helped the men hold up street cars and destroy property.

The constabulary made several attempts to restore order by charging the mob with drawn batons before the soldiers were called in. The mob was in such an ugly mood that the soldiers were under orders to use severe measures.

After the infuriated Unionists and Sinn Feiners refused to disperse the soldiers fired a volley over the heads of the mob. The next volley was fired into the mob, according to advices from the scene.

Ever Think About It?

"What is that, a school?" asked a stranger in a trolley car this morning, as he pointed to the high school. He was informed that it was the Kingston High School. "Well," he replied, "It's the first school I've seen in all my travels that didn't have a name on it."

TOLD BY BANDITS TO "LOOK PLEASANT"

Sheldon Teetsell Tells Experiences of Hold-up By Highwaymen—Guida's Statement to Police—Bandits Held for the Grand Jury.

At the close of a brief hearing, Police Justice Chidister of Saugerties on Wednesday afternoon held Howard Harold Horton, Albert Guida and Thomas Junior, the three highwaymen who held up and robbed Sheldon Teetsell on July 11, on a charge of robbery in the first degree, and committed them to jail to await the action of the grand jury.

Justice Chidister's court room in the town hall was crowed during the hearing, and among the spectators were the mothers of Junior and Guida, with other members of their families. Ex-Mayor William D. Brinnier appeared for Horton, Grant M. Brinnier appeard for Guida and Max Muldasky of Jersey City appeared for Junior. District Attorney Traver and Assistant District Attorney Brooks appeared for The People.

Guida Ran the Car.

Sheldon Teetsell, the chauffeur for Clinton Van Buskirk, who was held up and robbed by the three highwaymen, told the story of the robbery substantially as it was told by The Freeman the following day. On Sunday, July 11, he said, while he was returning with the automobile of Mr. Van Buskirk from Cementon, he saw the three defendants. Horton was lying on the ground and when Teetsell stopped his car, Junior said Horton had fallen and fractured his skull; he wanted to take him to a rear seat. Junior sat beside Teetsell and near the Malden bridge told him to stop the car. Guida got out of the car, looked back and reentered the car, which went ahead. After crossing the bridge, Teetsell was again asked to stop and Guida again got out. The next instant, Teetsell found himself covered with three guns, held by the three highwaymen. They asked him if he had any money and he gave them $8. Then they put him in the back seat, and Guida, after inquiring about the gear-shifts, took the wheel and ran the car.

Near Sauers' Hotel, Junior asked Teetsell whether he had any more money; Teetsell said "No." Horton, however, started to go through his pockets; from one pocket he took $63 and from another pocket $27. They asked Teetsell whether he had any watch or ring, and Horton continued the search and removed his watch.

Took His License Badge.

Then Horton took Teetsell's cap, with the license badge, and gave him his own straw hat. The three warned Teetsell not to recognize any friends and not to say anything, but to "look pleasant." At the jail the following day, Horton returned his cap to him, and the sheriff gave him his badge. The watch was a "Mystery" watch, with a Swiss movement.

When Smile Wore Off.

Cross-examined by Mr. Brinnier, Teetsell said Junior had told him to "look pleasant."

Q. "Did you look pleasant?"

A. "I couldn't."

Q. "When did your smile wear off?"

A. "When I saw the guns."

Junior also told him to show them the way through Saugerties without going through the main streets, and he did not show them through the main streets because of the guns they held.

Mr. Brinnier said that while he did not approve of what took place at the time, he did not approve of Teetsell's attitude.

Q. "Was there any arrangement with them that you were to take this car and go with them, and then sell the car and divide the proceeds?

A. (emphatically) "No, sir."

Q. "Did anything prevent you from looking out of the car?"

A. "The guns."

Horton who sat beside Teetsell, had his gun under his hat, on his lap, and Teetsell could see the barrel.

Q. "Did he press it against your side?"

A. "No, but it was in range."

Bandit Idea of Lying.

When he handed the $27 to Horton, Teetsell said, "For God's sake, have a heart."

Junior remarked to Teetsell when he saw the money, "You lied to me," to which Teetsell had replied "I can't help that."

At Kennedy's garage at Broadway and St. James street, Kingston, where the party stopped for gas, Teetsell said he did not dare say anything to the man who served him because he was afraid of the guns.

No Service on Fractures.

Cross-examined by Mr. Muldasky, Teetsell said the defendants put their guns away just before reaching the garage. He looked straight ahead most of the time because they told him to. When he looked sideways he could see the gun in Horton's lap, with the barrel pointing at him. Of the money taken, $63 belonged to him and the balance was money taken in that day for motor trips.

Mr. Muldasky inquired particularly whether Teetsell had noticed blood on Horton's head when he stepped the car, or when Horton was being lifted in the machine, and whether he did not think it peculiar that a man with a fractured skull did not have blood on him.

Q. "Do you know what a fractured skull is?"

A. "Yes."

Q. "Did you ever see a man with a fractured skull?"

A. "I had one myself."

Gun Produced Sensation.

Mr. Muldasky wanted Teetsell to indicate the size of the guns he saw, and vainly endeavored to get Judge Chidester to say for the record that the length indicated was about four and one-half inches. He tore a strip of paper from a pad and wanted the length marked, so as to place the paper in evidence. After the length had been marked, Teetsell said: "That was only the length of the barrel." Mr. Muldasky censured the witness for not having indicated the total length of the gun, while Mr. Brinnier suggested that the guns be produced. At this juncture, a gun was produced by someone at the lawyers' table, but Judge Chidester suggested that he didn't handle a gun himself and guns were dangerous, whether loaded or unloaded.

At one time the gun had been pressed against his stomach.

"So the bullet would go up through your head?" pleasantly suggested Mr. Brinnier.

"I had that sensation," said Teetsell.

Money Sergeant Hanley Found.

Detective Sergeant William F. Hanley, of the Kingston police force, testified that he arrived at police headquarters a few minutes after the three defendants had been brought there on the night of July 11, and had searched them. Various articles had been taken from them, and the money taken from each was:

From Junior, $22.36.

From Guida, $23.19.

From Horton, $23.

Guida's Confession.

Sergeant Hanley said he had taken them in a car from the city hall to the court house, and on the way asked them where they had been. Guida replied they had gone to Catskill on a little trip and then they asked what they were charged with.

The sergeant replied "Robbery."

Guida turned to the others and said,

"Hell, we might as well tell the truth."

Then Guida told Sergeant Hanley they had been at Catskill, their car had broken down, they had no money and started to walk home when they met the chauffeur and they had taken away his money.

Sergeant Hanley asked them who of them had taken the chauffeur along, and Guida replied: "To bring the car back after they got here Kingston."

To Mr. Muldasky Sergeant Hanley said he had searched them about midnight; he did not know if they had been searched before, but two guns were turned over to him as having been taken from them.

The People rested their case.

Mr. Brinnier and Mr. Muldasky, on behalf of their clients, waived formal examination and Justice Chidester committed the three defendants to jail to await the action of the grand jury.

HARDING'S SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE

Thousands Hear the Republican Nominee Formally Accept the Nomination and Outline the Issues of the Campaign.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Marion, O., July 22.—Before an audience of Republican leaders and fellow Ohioans which filled Garfield Auditorium and overflowed thousands into the park and fields surrounding it, Senator Warren G. Harding formally accepted the Republican nomination for the presidency here this afternoon and in a ringing speech—his first since the Chicago convention—outlined the course which the Republican party will pursue in the 1920 campaign.

Peace first and then an association of nations for international justice is to be the Republican policy, as outlined by Senator Harding.

The candidate accepted at every point the challenge issued by the Democrats, emphasized by the Wilson-Cox conference to make the president's league of nations the paramount issue of the campaign.

Senator Harding announced himself and party as ready to go before the American people in a referendum on the question.

Senator Harding's speech—the opening gun of the campaign—was in reply to Senator Lodge's short speech of notification in which the Massachusetts senator warned the candidate that no campaign in the history of the republic ever evolved graver issues than this one.

An abstract of Senator Harding's address will be found on another page of The Freeman.

Coffey Gets Return Bout.

Vincent Coffey, the promising Kingston fighter, and Willie Ryan of New Brunswick, who furnished such a slashing ten-round bout at the Ocean Park Club, New Jersey, a few weeks ago, have been rematched by Tom McArdle to battle ten rounds at the same club on Friday evening, July 30. The previous bout was the best one staged at the club in some time.

A Cookie Sale.

A cookie sale and social will be held from 2 to 5 p. m., Friday, at the home of Mrs. J. Netherwood, 121 Franklin street, under the auspices of the Sons and Daughters of Liberty, to which all the members and friends of the order are invited.

IT WAS A DOG'S LIFE IN 1807

Then The Village Would Not Allow A Canine to Run The Streets—Or Go Without Their Owners' Premises—Delinquents Rushing To Pay Taxes.

If those people who are streaming into the city clerk's office to register their dogs and pay the tax, think the dog laws of today are stringent they should have lived here 113 years ago. Then it was the Village of Kingston and not the City of Kingston. Then there was a board of trustees with powers instead of a common council with little to do but pay bills and enact ordinances.

It took over a century for dogs to gain their rights. They should have an independence day all their own. True they are taxed now, but then they have some liberties, the right to roam the streets, to snoop in neighbors' garbage pails, to chase cats and birds and book agents.

These privileges they did not have in 1807 for then the village trustees enacted an ordinance that it "shall not be lawful for any dog to run at large within this village," and it was also ordained that all dogs should be killed or confined within his master's or owner's yard, house barn or store. Provision was also made for the capital punishment of all dogs that had been bitten or that had done the biting. They were to be immediately killed or the owner would be fined $5 for every twenty-four hours that he allowed the canine to remain upon this earth. Dogs were not taxed in 1807 nor were they registered as now. Truly it was a dog's life then.

The city clerk each day is registering a number of dogs and collecting the license fee. Notices have been sent to all delinquents.

"KEEPING FIT" MEETINGS.

Dr. Croff Popular at New Paltz—Meeting at Modena Tonight.

Each meeting of the "Keeping Fit" campaign is much larger and the interest greater than at the one before. This afternoon Dr. Croff gave her very instructive talk on "Keeping Fit" to an unusually large and interesting audience at New Paltz. The points brought out on the care of the eyes and the teeth also regarding the proper shoes for women were especially noteworthy. With these Dr. Croff not only emphasized the points that many knew before, but also gave many new and important reasons why we should not neglect the care, even for a very short time, in these or any other parts of our bodies. From the very beginning of her talk, Dr. Croft's charming personalities attracted the attention of her audience and the intensely interesting and able way in which she handled her subject, held their closest attention to the very end.

This meeting with Dr. Croff as the speaker, was the third of the home nursing course being conducted by the New Paltz home bureau. Every one attending these meetings has agreed that each one is more instructive and interesting than the preceding one.

At Accord last evening the home bureau held a community meeting as a part of this "Keeping Fit" campaign. After the program of community singing, Dr. Croff was introduced by Miss Stuart, the home bureau manager. At this meeting as at New Paltz and the other meetings held this week, Dr. Croff's talk intensely interested the large number of women who were in attendance and made them feel more than well repaid for any effort they had made in getting out to the meeting, even those who had come long distances.

This evening the Modena home bureau will hold a meeting in the Modena M. E. Church. Dr. Croff will be the speaker and the subject that of "Keeping Fit."

Friday afternoon at New Hurley a meeting will be held on this same subject in the school house beginning at 2:30 p. m., old time. In this community, as in many others this meeting forms a part of the home bureau home nursing course.

At Gardiner Friday evening, one of the last meetings on "Keeping Fit," will be held in Callahan's Hall, beginning at 8 p. m., new time. Dr. Croff will also be the speaker at these meetings at New Hurley and Gardiner and every woman and all girls over 16 are invited and urged to attend.

Enemies of the Olive Tree.

Besides the birds, there are numerous insects which attack the fruit, the wood and the leaves of the olive tree. The most dreaded of these is a small fly called Dacus oleae, which is about half the size of a common house fly. The female has a sting like a wasp, with which she punctures the fruit where she deposits her eggs. It is calculated that a single fly will thus destroy three hundred or four hundred olives.

Too Much Tobacco Dangerous

says Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins hospital. Thousands of men suffering from fatal diseases would be in perfect health today were it not for the deadly drug Nicotine. Stop the excessive use of tobacco now before it's too late. It's a simple process to rid yourself of the tobacco habit in any form. Just go to any up-to-date drug store and get some Nicotol tablets, take them as directed and lo, the pernicious habit quickly vanishes. Druggists refund the money if this fail. Be sure to read large and interesting announcement by Doctor Connor soon to appear in this paper. It tells of the danger of nicotine poisoning and how to avoid it. In the meantime try Nicotol tablets; you will be surprised at the result. Connelly Drug Co. and Tea Brook Pharmacy.

POPLOWITZ VERDICT UPSET

Judge Nichols has handed down a decision in the action brought by Joseph Poplowitz against The Ulster and Delaware Railroad Company, setting aside the verdict rendered by the jury at the March term of the supreme court in the sum of $5,216 for the plaintiff, upon the ground that the verdict was contrary to the law and evidence. The plaintiff claimed damages in the sum of $50,000 for the loss of a leg. He was employed at a summer boarding house in the vicinity of Kaaterskill Junction station. He came to the station with a horse and wagon, left the horse standing near the station grounds untied, went into the station to transact business, and as the train approached the horse became frightened. Poplowitz started out of the station and in attempting to cross the track was struck by the train. The case was first tried before Mr. Justice Hasbrouck and a jury and the jury disagreed. The second trial resulted in the verdict above stated. The plaintiff was represented by Thomas J. O'Neil of New York city and the defendant by Harry H. Flemming of this city.

CROWDED OUT.

Ford Supplants Ancient Ellenville "Hoss" and Chaise.

Ellenville, July 22.—The people of the village generally noted with just a tinge of sadness on Tuesday on the passing of the faithful horse and carriage that has served the McMullen newspaper delivery route for so long a time and well. It was supplanted by a fine Ford auto driven by young William, son of the McMullen news store proprietor, as well as its popular clerk and his usual boy assistants and now as the newspapers are rushed to our doors and arrive without the usual loud "Whoa, whoa," and the ever faithful horse hardly moving and the long waits for papers are ended, as surely they will be now a Ford is the power the customers along the route will sing out, The horses have come, the horses have gone, but the Ford and newspapers go on forever."

HOW OLD IS MARGARET?

Newspaper readers remember that one of the most eloquent nominating speeches at the Chicago Convention was made by Mrs Margaret Hill McCarter of Kansas. In spite of this activity the chances are that Margaret will not vote this year, although she has started court proceedings to vindicate what she regards as her rights.

It appears that the Kansas law, like the New York law, requires all voters, regardless of sex, to give their age when registering. In this neighborhood the gallantry of the clerks is such that when a lady simply states that she is "over 21" they let it go at that. But not so in Kansas. There the law is no respecter of person or sex. Margaret refused the required information and so failed to get on the list. Hence her lawsuit.

The object of recording the age of persons registering is not to satisfy mere curiosity as many ladies seem to think, but is to help in identifying the person when he or she comes to vote. It is supposed to be a guard against impersonation or other forms of fraud. Yet in our opinion it is an imperfect device. Everybody who has been intimately associated with women knows that they sometimes appear to be of an age not corroborated by the record in the family bible. For that matter, it is difficult to guess within twenty years of the age of a well-kept man. Many men, as well as women, are unwilling to let their age be known, for business and social reasons. We have some reason for the belief that in this respect the records of the registry boards are unreliable.

It seems to us that it would be better for the registry clerks to put down the apparent ages of the voters. If a man or woman of sixty looks to be but forty, it would surely be a better aid to identification to put down the latter number in the age column. There are a lot of idle women in this state who are making nuisances of themselves by haunting the legislative halls at Albany and urging all kinds of silly law-making. We recommend to them that they employ their energy in advocating this reform in our registration law.

In the recent athletic contests between Princeton and Oxford Universities the Englishmen won invariably when endurance was required, as in the long runs, and the Americans won invariably when "a single burst of nervous and muscular energy" was called for, as in the high jumping and 100-yard sprints. It rather looks as if the difference was not merely individual and that distinctive national characteristics were involved. The Briton is noted for staying power and the American for prompt achievement.

Virginia is still the most prolific mother of Presidents and will remain so even after an Ohioan has been inaugurated next March. In all human probability Ohio's record will then be: Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Benjamin Harrison, McKinley, Taft, Harding or Cox—7. Virginia's record reads: Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, William Henry Harrison, Tyler, Taylor, Wilson—8.

The State chemist of Delaware has testified in court that buttermilk contains or may contain as high as 2 per cent of alcohol. This is considerably more than the law allows, but it is not likely that a drink so generally regarded as wholesome will ever be sent into exile because of such misbehavior.

After a very long stirring up the spasmodic tide is flowing freely once more, no less than 13,161 entering our gates during the week ending July 16—the highest record since June, 1914.

Ex-Ambassador Gerard says the man most prominent in the war received little attention in the confabulating conventions, instancing his own case as well as Pershing's and Hoover's. The convention doubtless figured that, quite apart from fitness and capacity, the public is at present sufficiently weary of the war to be even forgetful of its distinguished representatives.

A visiting Englishman ventures to write to Manchester Guardian that "all Americans travel at night," assigning as a reason the scenery-marring advertisers' signs that abound along our railway lines. It did not occur to him that there might be travel at night in order to save the day for hustling business.

There were 391 Congressmen in 1910 and there are now 435. The census of 1920 will permit of 500 if the present basis of representation remains the rule of increase. But Congress is at liberty to change the basis and, as the existing membership fills the House, it is possible that there may be little or no increase.

The long reach of the arm of the law is literally illustrated in the decision of the Canadian Department of Justice to send a member of the judiciary two thousand miles into the northern wilds to preside at the trial of an Eskimo charged with murdering another in order to possess his wife.

Senator Harding and Governor Cox are being plied for information as to the precise extent of their "dryness." From the eagerness and insistence displayed an uninformed foreigner might suppose that a president can amend the constitution or repeal the Volstead act with a stroke of his pen.

MAC KOWN MAKES GOOD.

Auditor of Corporation With Total Capital of $5,000,000.

In less than ten years Henry B. MacKown, a former Kingston boy, has climbed the ladder of achievement in New York and today occupies the position of business manager of St. Christopher's Home for Babies. Mr. MacKown is a member of the Ulster County Society in the City of New York and his success has been due to hard work. Like all young men intent upon making a worth-while goal in life Mr. MacKown knew it could not be accomplished in any other way than persevering studiously, and steadily he set out to accomplish the tasks before him. That he succeeded in overcoming all obstacles the position he now occupies was a long ways off from the time he left Kingston in November, 1918. Arriving in New York he secured a job as runner and clerk in a banking house and held it for a year and a half. He then worked in a railway equipment office as assistant clerk for two years. Then he went with Kirkman & Son, soap manufacturers, as clerk and within one year had charge of the bookkeeping department, remaining there three years, studying accounting nights. This position he left to run the accounting department of the Republican national committee during the Hughes campaign. While there Mr. MacKown did the opening and closing of the work of the treasurer's office. On the completion of the work several opportunities were offered him as a reward for his efficient services.

The appointment of chief accountant and statistician with the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research was accepted by him, and he remained there until he was appointed to his present position in St. Christopher's Hospital.

Mr. MacKown holds by election the position of auditor in five corporations whose total capitalization equals $5,000,000. He is a professional accountant and statistician, having studied in New York and Columbia Universities evenings while working during the day. He is a member of the Masonic fraternity and an officer in his lodge. In politics Mr. MacKown is a Republican. He is married, with one child.

During the world war Mr. MacKown was on the auditing staff of the Red Cross War Council, Liberty Loan, Allied War Drive, Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., working evenings without compensation. Mr. MacKown was appointed a commissioned officer four times in the army, but was rejected because of a heart irregularity due to excessive night work.

If ever there was a young man who went out of Kingston entitled to more praise and congratulation for his success than Mr. MacKown The Freeman does not know him, and it is with a feeling of pride this paper records his work, knowing Kingston and Ulster county folks will be more than pleased to learn of his advancement.

PLATTEKILL.

Plattekill, July 22.—A lawn party will be held on the church grounds Tuesday evening, July 27, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society.

Mrs. Frank Carpenter entertained a meeting of the Girls' Club at her home Saturday afternoon. Those present were Mrs. H. Gerow and the Misses Bessie Harris, Ethel Sutton, Evelyn Gerow, Glennie Wager, Hazel Baxter, Josephine Hasbrouck, Luella Decker. A very pleasant time was enjoyed and plans made for a picnic in the near future.

Newton Burr, his son, Howard, and his wife and the latter's mother, Mrs. Allen, of Washingtonville, former residents of this place, called on friends in this place Sunday.

LAWS OF NEW YORK.—By Authority.
CHAP. 670

AN ACT making an appropriation for highway improvement purposes.

Became a law May 10, 1920, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The sum of ten million dollars ($10,000,000), to become available immediately is hereby appropriated pursuant to moneys realized from bonds issued in accordance with the provisions of chapter two hundred and ninety-eight of the laws of nineteen hundred and twelve. The moneys hereby appropriated shall be expended for the construction and improvement of public highways in accordance with the provisions of article six, chapter thirty of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act relating to highways, constituting chapter twenty-five of the consolidated laws," and the provisions of chapter two hundred and ninety-eight of the laws of nineteen hundred and twelve.

§ 2. Any contract which obligates money appropriated by this act shall provide for the completion on or before December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and twenty-one and no extension of time beyond that date shall be granted by the state commission of highways without the special approval of the state comptroller.

§ 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

State of New York: Office of the Secretary of State, ss:

I have compared the preceding with the original law on file in this office and do hereby certify that the same is a correct transcript therefrom and of the whole of said original law.

FRANCIS M. HUGO,
Secretary of State.

LAWS OF NEW YORK.—By Authority.
CHAP. 571

AN ACT making appropriations from the sinking funds of the state for the payment of the interest on the state debt.

Became a law May 18, 1920, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Canal Debt Sinking Funds.

Section 1. Fund two. The sum of six-thousand dollars ($40,000) is hereby appropriated from the sinking fund under article seven, section four of the constitution for the payment of interest on eighteen-year three per centum bonds for the improvement of the Erie, Champlain and Oswego canals, being the debt contracted under said section and as provided by chapter one hundred and forty-three of the laws of nineteen hundred and three as the same shall become due and payable during the fiscal year beginning on the first day of July, nineteen hundred and twenty.

§ 2. Fund three. The sum of six hundred and thirty thousand dollars ($630,000) is hereby appropriated from the sinking fund under article seven section four of the constitution for the payment of interest on fifty-year three per centum bonds for the improvement of the Erie, Champlain and Oswego canals, being the debt contracted under said section and as provided by chapter one hundred and forty-seven of the laws of nineteen hundred and three, and chapter three hundred and two of the laws of nineteen hundred and six, as the same shall become due and payable during the fiscal year beginning on the first day of July, nineteen hundred and twenty.

§ 3. Fund four. The sum of one million six hundred thousand dollars ($1,600,000) is hereby appropriated from the sinking fund under article seven, section four of the constitution, for the payment of interest on fifty-year four per centum bonds for the improvement of the Erie, Champlain and Oswego canals, being the debt contracted under said section and as provided by chapter one hundred and forty-seven of the laws of nineteen hundred and three, and chapter three hundred and sixty-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred and ten as the same shall become due and payable during the fiscal year beginning on the first day of July, nineteen hundred and twenty.

§ 4. Fund five. The sum of one hundred and twenty thousand dollars ($120,000) is hereby appropriated from the sinking fund under article seven section four of the constitution, for the payment of interest on fifty-year four per centum bonds for the improvement of the Cayuga and Seneca canals, being the debt contracted under said section and as provided by chapter three hundred and ninety-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, chapter one hundred and thirty-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred and ten and chapter seven hundred and eighty-seven of the laws of nineteen hundred and thirteen as amended by chapter two of the laws of nineteen hundred and fifteen, as the same shall become due and payable during the fiscal year beginning on the first day of July, nineteen hundred and twenty.

§ 5. Fund six. The sum of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) is hereby appropriated from the sinking fund, under article seven, section four of the constitution, for the payment of interest on thirty-year four per centum bonds for the construction of barge canal terminals, being the debt contracted under said section and as provided by chapter seven hundred and forty-six of the laws of nineteen hundred and eleven, as the same shall become due and payable during the fiscal year beginning on the first day of July, nineteen hundred and twenty.

§ 6. Fund seven. The sum of one million three hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($1,350,000) is hereby appropriated from the sinking fund under article seven section four of the constitution, for the payment of interest on fifty-year four and one-half per centum bonds for the improvement of the Erie, Champlain and Oswego canals, being the debt contracted under said section and as provided by chapter one hundred and forty-seven of the laws of nineteen hundred and three and chapter seven hundred and eighty-seven of the laws of nineteen hundred and thirteen, as the same shall become due and payable during the fiscal year beginning on the first day of July, nineteen hundred and twenty.

Scandinavia.

Scandinavia is the classic name of the great peninsula of north Europe which comprises the kingdoms of Norway and Sweden. In a looser sense the term includes Denmark and Iceland, and in a literary sense the writings of all these countries and those of the Swedish race in Finland. A Scandinavian may, therefore, be either a Norwegian or a Swede.

The Duchess of Oporto, formerly Mrs. Van Valkenburg of New York, is en route to the United States, according to a report from Lisbon. The Duchess will visit here for a month and will thence proceed to Naples for the purpose of removing the body of the late Duke, who died early last year, to the Pantheon of Portuguese Kings in Lisbon. The Duke was the brother of the late King Carlos of Portugal.

Insurance Men's Social Hour.

The assistant superintendents and agents of the Kingston staff of the Prudential Insurance Company of America had a delightful function at the office on Wall street which continued from 5 to 7 o'clock, Wednesday evening. During the evening refreshments were served under the direction of Alexander Speers, which service was pronounced as of great excellence by all who were fortunate enough to be present and partake. During the social hour the insurance men were entertained by Miss Louise Carey, pianist, Miss Elsie Hornbeck, soloist and recitationist, and Miss Alice Dress in recitals. John E. Mahar, the popular superintendent made an interesting address, and Assistant Superintendent Travis of the Saugerties office gave a half hour talk that also was of interest to the workers.

LUMBER IS THE IDEAL INVESTMENT

A CAPABLY MANAGED LUMBER ENTERPRISE WITH LARGE TIMBER ACREAGE IS ASSURED OF LARGE PROFITS FOR THE REASON THAT THE WORLD IS FACE TO FACE WITH A LUMBER FAMINE.

THE HOMER D. BIERY LUMBER COMPANY

is a firmly established, capably managed and successful lumber enterprise which is earning and paying large dividends. It is in the market for capital with which to take immediate advantage of conditions which insure large profits in the lumber industry.

This is a peculiar and remarkable investment opportunity. The investor is asked to participate in an undertaking under circumstances which seem to assure that rising prices and steadily and rapidly increasing profits are inevitable. The astounding economic facts cannot be presented in detail in this limited space, but are set forth in a prospectus which may be obtained from our local representative. Here is a digest of the salient reasons why an investment in the stock of the Homer D. Biery Lumber Company is of such exceptionable promise.

There are four basic sources of wealth, the SEA, the SOIL, the MINE and the FOREST. The wealth of the SEA, the SOIL and the MINE are practically inexhaustible. Not so with the FOREST. Its wealth is not hidden. Neither Labor nor Capital can reproduce it. Time alone can replace the vast forests which the folly of man has destroyed or wasted. The time has arrived when even the United States is compelled to rely on Canada for a large portion of its timber supply.

Not many years ago most grades of building timber were sold at retail at from $5.00 to $15.00 a thousand feet. These same grades now command from $60.00 to $300.00 a thousand feet. The law of Supply and Demand has not been repealed. The demand for timber and manufactured lumber is steadily increasing; the supply has decreased until famine conditions are at hand, and, more important than all else, there is no remedy in sight save the wholesale replacement of forests by planting.

From 50 to 200 years must pass before such artificially cultivated trees can be converted by the mills of future generations into marketable lumber.

Do You Not Now Realize Why Lumber Is the Ideal Investment?

Homer D. Biery foresaw this crisis years ago, and planned to take advantage of it. Starting on a small tract near Franklin, Pennsylvania, he extended his operations until his organization was recognized as one of the largest producers of railroad and mining timber in the world.

It operates fifteen saw mills; more than fifty smaller units; owns its railways and other modern means of transportation; its large timber acreage is intersected by fifteen railway lines which give it unsurpassed access to profitable markets; its customers include many of the great corporations of the United States, and they benefit by a quick service invented and installed by Mr. Biery, one which justifies his advertising slogan: "A Car or a Trainload Within 24 Hours."

On January 1st, 1920, the business and assets of the Homer D. Biery lumber interests were absorbed by the present HOMER D. BIERY LUMBER COMPANY. From the sale of a portion of its stock the Company will acquire control of approximately 180,000 acres of valuable timber lands in West Virginia, North Carolina, Arkansas and small holdings in other states. It will also install a new saw mill in West Virginia with a capacity of 75,000 feet a day, and one in North Carolina with a capacity of 125,000 feet a day.

To finance these operations the HOMER D. BIERY LUMBER COMPANY will sell $1,000,000 of its preferred stock. This is a cumulative preferred, paying eight per cent annually. When the earnings of the common stock warrant, the dividend rate of the preferred will be increased to 10 per cent, all excess earnings over 10 per cent going to the common stock. The purchaser of this preferred stock is awarded a bonus of 20 per cent of the common

The possibilities and probabilities of this common stock should be measured by the fact that other lumber enterprises operating under similar conditions and circumstances now earn from 25 to more than 500 per cent annually.

There is nothing speculative about a well managed and properly financed lumber enterprise. It is an opportunity for a conservative but highly attractive investment unique in the history of any fundamental industry.

ONLY 381 PAID TO SEE BALL GAME

Remaining Six or Seven Hundred Were Brassy Tightwads of the Usual Type That Demands Baseball But Does Not Pay.

Editor Freeman:

In company with a thousand other baseball fans I attended the game at Athletic Field last Saturday afternoon which resulted in the newly formed Kingston team defeating the seasoned team of the Moline Athletic Club, Poughkeepsie, by a score of 4-2 in 11 innings.

In company with the rest of the fans I enjoyed the game, not only because Kingston won, but because it was a mighty close, well-played, clean game of ball with all kinds of thrills thrown in, that would have been well worth watching had the local team lost, and was doubly satisfactory when it is considered that the Kingston team, composed almost entirely of young and inexperienced players who might reasonably have been expected to be out-classed by their older and seasoned opponents, kept their heads, played their best ball in the pinches and finally pulled the game out of the fire in the 11th inning by clean hitting.

But there was one feature in connection with the game that I certainly did not enjoy, and I am going to request space in your valuable paper to put that feature quarely before the fans of Kingston.

The Kingston team having no inclosed grounds where gate admissions can be collected are forced to rely on the sale of hat checks for their income. Just before the game started and during the first few innings, I deliberately followed one of the ticket sellers to see how the sale of checks was getting on and I was disgusted to find that a large percentage of those who were asked to buy hat checks, either refused outright to pay the small price of 25 cents which was asked, or else evaded payment with the poorest and weakest kind of excuses.

A couple of days after the game I met the manager of the team and asked him how many tickets were sold at last Saturday's game and he told me that 381 tickets were sold. Three hundred and eighty-one out of a crowd that numbered at least one thousand. In other words about one fan out of three was willing to support the team with a quarter while two out of three wanted to see the game alright but only if it didn't cost them anything. I don't know what guarantee Manager Finch had to pay the Moline A C to come to Kingston and what's more it's none of my business. But I do know that teams of that calibre don't travel for nothing, and I am willing to bet that by the time the guarantee, hire of umpire, cost of printing tickets, new balls, etc., was deducted from the sale of those 381 hat checks the Kingston team was lucky if it broke much better than even on the game, let alone paying the players anything. Three hundred and eighty-one out of over a thousand. Let those figures soak in. Everybody knows that there are always some cheap skates and dead heads in every crowd but if those figures represent the actual proportion between real sports and dead heads in Kingston, then I am ashamed of the town.

Fans of Kingston, wake up! You have a real live baseball team right here in Kingston if Saturday's game is any indication. For years past the fans of Kingston have been wailing over the fact that all the local stars are playing with out of town teams and are not seen in action here. If you like baseball, go to the Athletic Field Saturday afternoons. If you don't like baseball, don't go, but if you do go, for the sake of your own self respect if for nothing else, buy a hat check for 25 cents, support the team, and wear the check in your hat band as evidence that you at least are not a dead head.

The Kingston team is new, it is composed of young players and it lacks experience. But ask any fan who saw the last game if it isn't full of fight and pep. Manager Finch has the making of a mighty good team, one that Kingston will be proud of. All it needs is practice and support. The management will tend to the practice, it's up to the fans to supply the support, and without support, the kind of support that pays up for hat checks as well as attends games the team will go on the rocks as surely as it is will be successful if the fans get behind it and push.

This letter is written in the hope that it will bring home to the fans of Kingston the injustice they are doing the Kingston team and themselves by going dead head. It is not written at the request of the management or anybody else connected with the team and it is not written by anybody connected with the team. Turn out for the game next Saturday, pay your way like a man, cheer for your home team whether it wins or loses, whether it plays big league ball or goes to pieces in the pinch, and if the team loses and I hear you knocking the boys, Mr. B. B. Fan of Kingston, it will be a pretty safe bet that I am listening to a man (?) who can't show a hat check if he is asked for it.

A Man Isn't an Alligator

An alligator can spend his days letting the sun warm his back: a man has to work. But a man can thank his lucky stars that he does. As Dean Davenport says in a splendid article coming in

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

A Job is an Opportunity, Not a Task. We must work, not primarily to earn a living, but to keep our self-respect. It's wholesome, hard work that has made the capable, upstanding, self-reliant American farmer.

"If everybody would work at the highest efficiency," say some of the more violent-minded in the labor groups who strike for more money and less work, "three hours a day would be enough to provide the necessities of life." Maybe so, maybe so! It might—in fact, they say, it does—satisfy the Fiji Islander, but it wouldn't provide the sort of home the Country Gentleman reader is working for. THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is edited for the farmer who works. Its 52 big, colorful issues cover every farm problem and every home interest, presenting practical pure-fact guidance that makes every word valuable. Value of Perforations.

Discovered in terms of miles saved by the calculations of Director James L. Wilmeth, of the government printing office, the daily output of holes perforated from stamps, when placed one by side and edge to edge, would extend in single file a distance of 2,875 miles.

Franklin's Queer Vision

When Benjamin Franklin became the first American postmaster general the wheelbarrow was prominent in mail transportation. That Franklin experienced something better was shown by his active interest in the first balloons and in electricity. He was not far one sighted but far all open.

SAUGERTIES FOLKS IN NEW YORK CITY

The New York offices of the Martin Cantine Company of Saugerties, are now located at 501 Fifth avenue, at the corner of Forty-second street. They are in charge of the New York representative, William R. Crump, one of the best known paper men in this country. For years the New York office was at 38 Park Row. For several years past there has been a growing tendency on the part of the paper manufactures to establish headquarters in the uptown section, and the progressive spirit of that well known Saugertesian, Martin Cantine, the president of the company, again makes itself manifest in providing for his representive one of the best spaces available in New York. The offices are on the fifteenth floor of one of the most up-to-date buildings and overlook the busiest corner in the city if not in the world. The offices are furnished throughout with the most modern equipment.

Just a few doors above the new offices of the Cantine Company on the opposite side of the street, between 42nd and 43rd Edward L. Seaman, also of Saugerties the manager of the Walk-Over Shoe stores in New York state has opened one of the finest shoe stores for his company in New York City. With this store Mr. Seaman now supervises sixteen stores in and around Manhattan Island. Mr. Seaman also intends to move the executive offices of his company from 179 Broadway to Broadway at Fortieth street within the next month, where the space permits of much larger quarters which will greatly facilitate the handling of the clerical work.

HIGHLAND.

Highland, July 22.—Chester Atkins, of Atkins Brothers, who conduct a grocery store in New Paltz, also one here, are doing a fine business. He was in New Paltz Tuesday. They motor there several times a week, keeping the store there well stocked.

Captain R. H. Decker was in Ohioville on Tuesday on business.

Lorin Callihan was in Milton recently with friends.

Hillair has at present a number of guests, yet there are not near the number of city people in the place as there used to be for so many of the boarding houses are done away with.

Ernest Allen, brother of Mrs. Orsen Sheeley, is in Vassar Hospital. He has a fever and they are fearful of it being typhoid. He was very much run down, had worked very hard and the many friends of this young man are anxious to hear favorable reports in regard to his condition.

Mrs. A. D. Lent and daughter, Susie, are spending their vacation near Portland, Me.

Service in the M. E. Church Sunday evening was well attended, although the excessive heat and so many people out of town for their vacations made the congregation smaller than usual.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Atkins have as their guests Misses Mabel and Effie Atkins, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Dego Atkins, of New Paltz for a week. They with Mrs. Atkins and daughter, Ethel, spent last Friday afternoon in Poughkeepsie.

Captain R. H. Decker returned home Saturday last from Pleasant Valley, where he spent about a week.

Mrs. J. J. Donovan and daughter, Dorothy, spent Friday in Poughkeepsie visiting relatives.

Mrs. A. W. Lent and Harold Lent were in New Paltz last Friday.

Miss Bertha Dimsey and Mrs. Jennie DuBois of Lloyd were guests of friends in Milton last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Donovan and Mr. and Mrs. William Davis of Poughkeepsie, who were guests of the Donovans, motored to Milton last Friday evening to see the fireworks, which were beautiful.

Mrs. Ella Masten is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Sherwood.

The church fair will be held on the church grounds on Wednesday evening, July 28, 1920. All kinds of refreshments and fancy articles will be for sale, also a grab bag for the children. Music will be furnished by Soha's orchestra of Walden. Please note the change of date, it will be on the 28th instead of the 29th, as was stated in these items last week. Will all those who donate fancy articles kindly hand to Mrs. Walter J. Van Wyck or Miss Mabel Schoonmaker before the night of the fair.

The next meeting of the home bureau will be at the school house on Friday afternoon, July 23, at 2:30 standard time. Dr. Cook of the state department of health, of Buffalo will give the lecture. Her subject will be "The Health of the Future." All women and girls over sixteen are cordially invited to attend this lecture.

Dutch Doubt and Fear.

The Dutch of doubt and fear never accomplish anything and never can. They always fail in future. Purpose, energy power to do, and all strong character come when doubt and fear creep in. The will to do springs from the knowledge that we can do.—Allen.

HARDING SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE A NEW KEYNOTE

Republican Nominee at Notification Ceremonies Discusses Problems Confronting Nation.

"HOLD HERITAGE AMERICAN NATIONALITY UNIMPAIRED"

Advocates Party Responsibility as Distinguished From Dictatorial and Autocratic Personal Rule—In Referring to League of Nations, Says We Do Not Mean to Shun a Single Responsibility of This Republic to World Civilization—Favors Protective Tariff, Merchant Marine, a Small Army, Woman Suffrage and National Budget.

Marion, O.—(Special.)—Warren G. Harding was officially notified here of his nomination as the Republican candidate for the presidency. His speech of acceptance is, in part, as follows:

Chairman Lodge, members of Notification Committee, members of National Committee, ladies and gentlemen: The message which you have formally conveyed brings to me a realization of responsibility which is not underestimated. It is a supreme task to interpret the covenant of a great political party, the activities of which . . . so woven into the history of . . . public, and a very sacred . . . undertaking to utter the . . . and aspirations of the many millions who adhere to that party. The party platform has charted the way, yet, somehow, we have come to expect that interpretation which voices the faith of nominees who must assume specific tasks.

Let me be understood clearly from the very beginning. I believe in party sponsorship in government. I believe in party government as distinguished from personal government, individual, dictatorial, autocratic or what not.

No man is big enough to run this great republic. There never has been one. Such domination was never intended. Tranquility, stability, dependability—all are assured in party sponsorship, and we mean to renew the assurances which were rended in the cataclysmal war.

Our first committal is the restoration of representative popular government, under the constitution, through the agency of the Republican party. Our vision includes more than a chief executive, we believe in a cabinet of highest capacity, equal to the responsibilities which our system contemplates, in whose councils the vice president, second official of the republic, shall be asked to participate. The same vision includes a cordial understanding and co-ordinated activities with a house of Congress, fresh from the people, voicing the convictions which members bring from direct contact with the electorate, and cordial co-operation along with the restored functions of the senate, fit to be the greatest deliberative body of the world.

International Relationship.

It is not difficult, Chairman Lodge, to make ourselves clear on the question of international relationship. We Republicans of the senate, conscious of our solemn oaths and mindful of our constitutional obligations, when we saw the structure of a world super-government taking visionary form, joined in a becoming warning of our devotion to this republic. If the torch of constitutionalism had not been dimmed, the delayed peace of the world and the tragedy of disappointment and Europe's misunderstanding of America easily might have been avoided. The Republicans of the senate halted the barter of independent American eminence and influence, which it was proposed to exchange for an obscure and unequal place in the merged government of the world. Our party intends to hold the heritage of American nationality unimpaired and unencumbered.

The world will not misunderstand. We do not mean to hold aloof. We do not mean to shun a single responsibility of this republic to world civilization. There is no hate in the American heart. We have no envy, no suspicion, no aggression for any people in the world. We hold to our rights, and mean to defend, aye, we mean to sustain the rights of this nation and our citizens alike, everywhere under the shining sun. Yet there is the concord of amity and sympathy and fraternity in every resolution. There is a genuine aspiration in every American breast for a tranquil friendship with all the world.

One may readily sense the conscience of our America. I am sure I understand the purpose of the dominant group of the senate. We were not seeking to defeat a world aspiration, we were resolved to safeguard America. We were resolved then, even as we are today, and will be tomorrow, to preserve this free and independent republic.

In the call of the conscience of America is peace, peace that closes the gaping wound of world war, and silences the impassioned voices of international envy and distrust. Heeding this call and knowing as I do the disposition of the Congress, I promise you formal and effective peace so quickly as a Republican Congress can pass its declaration for a Republican executive to sign.

It is better to be the free and disinterested agent of international justice and advancing civilization, with the covenant of conscience, than be shackled by a written compact which surrenders our freedom of action and gives to a military alliance the right to proclaim America's duty to the world. No surrender of rights to a world council or its military alliance, no assumed mandatary however appealing, ever shall summon the sons of this republic to war. Their supreme sacrifice shall only be asked for America and its call of honor. There is a sanctity in that right we will not delegate.

Leaving America Independent.

Disposed as we are, the way is very simple. Let the failure attending assumption, obstinacy, impracticability and delay be recognized, and let us find the big, practical, unselfish way to do our part, neither covetous because of ambition nor hesitant through fear, but ready to serve ourselves, humanity and God. With a senate advising as the constitution contemplates, I would hopefully approach the nations of Europe and of the earth, proposing that understanding which makes us a willing participant in the consecration of nations to a new relationship, to commit the moral forces of the world, America included, to peace and international justice, still leaving America free, independent and self-reliant, but offering friendship to all the world.

It is folly to close our eyes to outstanding facts. Humanity is restive, much of the world is in revolution, the agents of discord and destruction have wrought their tragedy in pathetic Russia, have lighted their torches among other peoples, and hope to see America as a part of the great Red conflagration. Ours is the temple of liberty under the law, and it is ours to call the Sons of Opportunity to its defense. America must not only save herself, but ours must be the appealing voice to sober the world.

It must be understood that toil alone makes for accomplishment and advancement, and righteous possession is the reward of toil, and its incentive. There is no progress except in the stimulus of competition.

The chief trouble today is that the world war wrought the destruction of healthful competition, left our storehouses empty, and there is a minimum production when our need is maximum. Maximums, not minimums, is the call of America. It isn't a new story, because war never fails to leave depleted storehouses and always impairs the efficiency of production. War also establishes its higher standards for wages, and they abide. I wish the higher wage to abide, on one explicit condition—that the wage-earner will give full return for the wage received.

Producing More Production.

I want, somehow, to appeal to the sons and daughters of the republic, to every producer, to join hand and brain in production, more production, honest production, patriotic production, because patriotic production is no less a defense of our best civilization than that of armed force. Profiteering is a crime of commission, under-production is a crime of omission. We must work our most and best, else the destructive reaction will come.

The menacing tendency of the unrest of day is not chargeable wholly to the unsettled and fevered conditions caused by the war. The manifest weakness in popular government lies in the temptation to appeal to grouped citizenship for political advantage.

It would be the blindness of folly to ignore the activities in our own country which are aimed to destroy our economic system, and to commit us to the colossal tragedy which has destroyed all freedom and made Russia impotent. This movement is not to be halted in threatful liberties. We must not abridge the freedom of speech, the freedom of press, or the freedom of assembly, because there is no limit to repression. These liberties are as sacred as the freedom of religious belief, as inviolable as the rights of life and the pursuit of happiness. We do hold to the right to punish sedition, to guard a menacing contempt for law as strong and a peril to the safety of the republic as its people, when emergencies calls, because security and the majesty of the law are the first essentials of liberty. He who threatens destruction of the government by force or flouts his contempt for lawful authority, ceases to be a loyal citizen and forfeits his rights to the freedom of the republic.

No party is indifferent to the welfare of the wage-earner. To us his good fortune is of frequent concern, and we seek to make that good fortune permanent. We do not oppose but approve collective bargaining, because that is an outstanding right, but we are unalterably insistent that its exercise must not destroy the equally sacred right of the individual, in his necessary pursuit of livelihood. Any American has the right to quit his employment, so has every American the right to seek employment. The group must not endanger the individual, and we must discourage groups preying upon one another, and none shall be allowed to forget that the government's obligations are alike to all the people.

No Strike Against Government.

We are so confident that much of the present-day insufficiency and inefficiency of transportation are due to the withering hand of government operation that we emphasize anew our opposition to government ownership, we want to expedite the reparation and make sure the mistake is not repeated.

A state of inadequate transportation facilities, mainly chargeable to the failure of governmental experiment, is losing millions to agriculture, it is hindering industry, it is menacing the American people with a fuel shortage little less than a peril. It emphasizes the present-day problem and suggests that spirit of encouragement and assistance which commits all America to relieve such an emergency.

Gross expansion of currency and credit have depreciated the dollar just as expansion and inflation have discredited the coins of the world. We inflated in haste, we must deflate in deliberation. We debased the dollar in reckless finance, we must restore in honesty.

In all sincerity we promise the prevention of unreasonable profits, we challenge profiteering with all the moral force and the legal powers of government and people, but it is fair, aye, it is timely, to give reminder that law is not the sole corrective of our economic ills.

Drive Against Extravagance.

Let us call to all the people for thrift and economy, for denial and sacrifice if need be, for a nation-wide drive against extravagance and luxury, to a recommittal to simplicity of living, to that prudent and normal plan of life which is the health of the republic.

New conditions, which attend amazing growth and extraordinary industrial development, call for a new and forward-looking program. The American farmer had a hundred and twenty millions to feed in the home market, and heard the cry of the world for food and answered it, though he faced an appalling task amid handicaps never encountered before.

Contemplating the defenselessness of the individual farmer to meet the organized buyers of his products and the distributors of the things the farmer buys, I hold that farmers should not only be permitted but encouraged to join in co-operative association to reap the just measure of reward merited by their arduous toil.

Our platform is an earnest pledge of renewed concern for this most essential and elemental industry and in both appreciation and interest we pledge effective expression in law and practice. We will halt that co-operation which again will make profitable and desirable the ownership and operation of comparatively small farms intensively cultivated, and which will facilitate the caring for the products of farm and orchard without the lamentable waste under present conditions.

America would look with anxiety on the discouragement of farming activity either through the government's neglect or its paralysis by socialistic practices. A Republican administration will be committed to renewed regard for agriculture, and seek the participation of farmers in curing the ills justly complained of, and aim to place the American farm where it ought to be—highly ranked in American activities and fully sharing the highest good fortunes of American life.

Becomingly associated with this subject are the policies of irrigation and reclamation, so essential to agricultural expansion, and the continued development of the great and wonderful West. It is our purpose to continue and enlarge federal aid, not in sectional partiality, but for the good of all America.

I believe the budget system will effect a necessary, helpful reformation, and reveal business methods to government business.

I believe federal departments should be made more business-like and send back to productive effort thousands of federal employees, who are either duplicating work or not essential at all.

I believe in the protective tariff policy and know we will be calling for its saving Americanism again.

I believe in a great merchant marine. I would have this republic the leading maritime nation of the world.

I believe in a navy ample to protect it, and able to assure an dependable defense.

I believe in a small army, but the best in the world, with a mindfulness for preparedness which will avoid the unestimable cost of our previous neglect.

I believe in our eminence in trade abroad, which the government should aid in expanding, both in revealing markets and opening carriers.

I believe in establishing standards for immigration, which are concerned with the future citizenship of the republic, met with more man-power to industry.

I believe that every man who wins the oath of American citizenship and walks in the light of American opportunity, must become American in heart and soul.

I believe in holding fast to every forward step in unshackling child labor and elevating conditions of woman's employment.

I believe the federal government should stamp out lynching and remove that stain from the fair name of America.

I believe the federal government should give its effective aid in solving the problem of ample and becoming housing of its citizenship.

I believe this government should make its Liberty and Victory bonds worth all that its patriotic citizens paid in purchasing them.

Taxes Must Be Reduced.

I believe the tax burdens imposed for the war emergency must be revised to the needs of peace, and in the interest of equity in distribution of the burden.

I believe the negro citizens of America should be guaranteed the enjoyment of all their rights, that they have earned the full measure of citizenship bestowed, that their sacrifices in blood on the battlefields of the republic have entitled them to all of freedom and opportunity, all of sympathy and aid that the American spirit of fairness and justice demands.

I believe there is an easy and open path to righteous relationship with Mexico. It has seemed to me that our undeveloped, uncertain and infirm policy has made us a culpable party to the governmental misfortunes in that land. Our relations ought to be both friendly and sympathetic; we would like to acclaim a stable government there, and offer a neighborly hand in pointing the way to greater progress.

I believe in law enforcement. If elected I mean to be a constitutional president, and it is impossible to ignore the constitution, unthinkable to evade the law, when our every committal is to orderly government.

The four million defenders on land and sea were worthy of the best traditions of a people never war-like in peace and never pacifist in war. They commanded our pride, they have our gratitude, which must have genuine expression. It is not only a duty, it is a privilege to see that the sacrifices made shall be requitted, and that those still suffering from casualties and disabilities shall be abundantly aided and restored to the highest capabilities of citizenship and its enjoyment.

Advocates Woman Suffrage.

The womanhood of America, always its glory, its inspiration and the potent, uplifting force in its social and spiritual development, is about to be enfranchised. In so far as congress can go, the fact is already accomplished. By party edict, by my recorded vote, by personal conviction I am committed to this measure of justice. It is my earnest hope, my sincere desire that the one needed state vote be quickly recorded in the affirmative of the right of equal suffrage and that the vote of every citizen shall be cast and counted in the approaching election.

And to the great number of noble women who have opposed in conscience this tremendous change in the present relation of the sexes as applied to government, I venture to plead that they will accept the full responsibility of enlarged citizenship and give to the best in the republic their suffrage and support.

Ours is not only a fortunate people but a very resourceful people, with visions high that they feet on the earth, with belief in themselves and faith in God. Whether enemies threaten from without or menaces arise from within, there is some indefinable voice saying, "Have confidence in the republic! America will go on!"

SALIENT POINTS OF SENATOR HARDING'S SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE

"I pledge fidelity to our country and to God, and accept the nomination of the Republican party for the presidency of the United States."

"The human element comes first, and I want the employers in industry to understand the aspirations, the convictions, the yearnings of millions of American wage earners."

"The Constitution contemplates no class and recognizes no group. It broadly includes all the people, with specific recognition for none."

"We approve collective bargaining."

"Gross expansion of currency and credits has depreciated the dollar. We will attempt intelligent and courageous deflation."

"When competition — natural, fair impelling competition — is suppressed, whether by law, compact or conspiracy, we halt the march of progress, silence the voice of aspiration and paralyze the will for achievement."

"I promise you formal and effective peace so quickly as a Republican Congress can pass its declaration for a Republican executive to sign."

"I can hear the call of conscience an insistent voice for largely reduced armaments throughout the world."

"Our vision includes more than a chief executive. We believe in a cabinet of highest capacity, equal to the responsibilities which our system contemplates, in whose councils the vice-president, second official of the Republic, shall be asked to participate."

CONDENSED CLASSICS

THE STRANGE CASE OF DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE

By ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON

Condensation by Irene Rockwell

Robert Louis Stevenson called himself an idler. He was a natural vagabond who loved to go in old clothes upon his own way through the strange city haunts of the disinherited or out upon the open road. He despised smug society, but talked eagerly with all sorts of men and women. Yet even as a boy he always carried a notebook and a pencil and constantly put into words what he saw and thought and felt. He wrote until his health gave way again and again, and then he wrote of that.

MR. UTTERSON was a lawyer who believed in letting people go to the devil in their own way. He and Richard Enfield, a man about town, who was at once his distant kinsman and his friend, often walked about the London streets together. One day they came upon a sinister, windowless, two-story building in a byway.

Enfield told of seeing a man in this street run into a little girl, knock her down and walk over her body. "It sounds nothing to hear, but it was hellish to see," he said. "I collared the man and held him, and though he made no resistance he gave me a look so ugly that it set me in a sweat. He offered to pay damages and came to this house to get the money. He gave me 10 pounds in gold and a check signed by a man I knew. A forgery? Not a bit of it—perfectly good!"

Mr. Utterson asked the name of the man. Enfield with some hesitation said: "His name is Hyde."

"You see I don't ask you the name of the man who signed the check, for I know it already," said Utterson.

That night the latter opened his safe and took from it a will which he reexamined with care. It provided that in case of the death of Henry Jekyll all his possessions were to pass to Edward Hyde, and in case of the disappearance, or unexplained absence for three months of said Jekyll, Edward Hyde should step into Jekyll's shoes without delay. As he studied it the lawyer said: "I thought it madness, but I began to fear it is disgrace."

He decided to talk with Doctor Lanyon, a great physician and an old friend of Jekyll.

"I see very little of Henry now," said Lanyon. "He began to go wrong some ten years ago. He became too fanciful for me."

Lanyon had never heard of Hyde.

From that time forward Utterson began to haunt that sinister doorway into which Hyde had disappeared. He determined to discover its owner. At last one night a small plainly dressed man approached and drew a key from his pocket. His look suggested depravity but did not show it. Utterson accosted him and said: "Now I shall know you again. It may be useful."

Hyde gave his address in Soho, admitted knowing Jekyll, and disappeared within. Utterson turned away convinced that this loathsome little man had some dark hold on Doctor Jekyll. In sorrow and in anger he went to call upon Jekyll who lived just around the corner. He was out.

To the butler Utterson said: "I saw Mr. Hyde go in by the old dissecting room door. Poole, is that right when your master Jekyll is away?"

"Quite right, sir. Mr. Hyde has a key."

Utterson went home with a feeling that some danger menaced his friend Jekyll.

A year later London was startled by the singularly inhuman murder case. A housemaid, looking from a window, saw a man who resembled Mr. Hyde strike down her master, a venerable, white-haired man, and trample his body under foot in a hellish fury. The old man was Sir Danvers Carew.

The case came to Utterson who knew recognized the weapon which the assassin had dropped. It was a cane which he had himself presented to Henry Jekyll. It was another link in the chain. Utterson took an officer to the address which Hyde had given. The latter was not at home.

The house was empty, and nothing suspicious was to be seen except a pile of ashes on the hearth as if many papers had been burned. Among these the detective discovered a partially burned checkbook. Following this clue he traced several thousand pounds to a certain bank.

Hyde did not claim the money. He had gone away, swiftly and safely.

The next step was to visit the dissecting house which was in truth a part of Jekyll's property and known as the Laboratory. Light fell through the skylight upon the cupola. At the further end a flight of stairs led to a large room having its three iron barred windows looking on the court. A fire burned in the grate, and there, close to it, sat Doctor Jekyll, looking deathly sick. He held out a cold hand.

Utterson asked if he had heard the news. Jekyll replied that he had heard it in the street. Utterson said: "You know as my friend, but so are you, and I want to know what I am doing. Are you hiding this murderer?"

Jekyll swore that he was not but added: "He is safe—quite safe. He will never more be heard of."

He showed Utterson a letter from Hyde in a queer, upright handwriting.

As he went out Utterson asked Poole about the man who had brought the letter to his master. Poole was sure no letter had been handed in. The letter must have come in by the way of the laboratory. Utterson's clerk, an expert in handwriting, put the two letters side by side. After careful study he said: "The two hands are in many points identical. They are differently sloped, that is all."

Utterson's blood ran cold in his veins. "Henry Jekyll has forged in defense of a ferocious murderer," he said.

In less than a week Lanyon took to his bed and died. A day or two after the funeral, a letter from the dead man came by messenger to the lawyer, a missive marked "Private. Not to be opened till the death or disappearance of Henry Jekyll."

Utterson did not open the letter but went at once to call upon Jekyll. He saw only Poole who said his master was hardly ever seen outside the room in the laboratory, and that he had grown very silent and morose.

One evening as Utterson and Enfield went across the court in the rear of the Jekyll house they saw the doctor sitting at one of the windows taking the air with an infinite sadness of mien, like some disconsolate prisoner.

Utterson, shocked at his looks, urged him to come down and walk with him. Jekyll refused sadly. Suddenly as they both stood looking at him his smile vanished and an expression of abject terror and despair came upon his face. He turned away. The window was thrust down. Utterson turned and looked at his companion Enfield. Both were pale, there was an answering horror in their eyes.

One night Poole suddenly appeared at Utterson's house. He came to say that for a week his master had been shut up in his cabinet and that he was alarmed. "I can't bear it any longer."

He could not explain his fears but begged the lawyer to go back with him. His face was white and his voice broken.

Utterson found the entire household in Jekyll's house in a state of panic.

"They're all afraid," said Poole. "Follow me," he added; "I want you to hear, and I want you to be heard—but don't go in, sir."

They knocked on Jekyll's door but a voice said: "I cannot see anyone."

When they returned to the kitchen Poole asked: "Was that my master's voice?" Utterson admitted it was changed. Poole then opened his heart. "I believe my master has been made away with," he said.

Poole thought it strange that the murderer stayed. He said that the man in the cabinet room had been crying out night and day for help, and had thrown out papers on which were written orders for certain drugs.

Utterson examined some of these papers which were agonized pleas for a special kind of salt which he had used and wanted again. They were all in Jekyll's hand as Poole admitted. He also explained that once he had caught sight of the man inside. "The hair stood up at sight of him. If that was my master why had he a mask on his face?"

Poole said: "That thing was not my master. My master was a tall fine man—this is a kind of dwarf."

They decided to break down the door.

Poole said: "Once I heard it weeping." This added to the terror and mystery.

They stood before the door and Utterson demanded entrance. A voice from within cried: "For God's sake have mercy."

"That is not Jekyll's voice—it is Hyde's," shouted Utterson, and swung his ax against the door.

Shattering the lock they rushed in. On the floor lay the form of a man contorted and twitching. They drew near and turned the body on its back. It was Edward Hyde, and by his side was an empty vial. He was dead.

Jekyll was not to be found, but the dead Hyde was dressed in what seemed to be a suit of Jekyll's clothes much too large for him.

On the table was a confession addressed to Utterson, and a will drawn in his favor. Lanyon's letter explained the mystery. Hyde had come one night to his office very ill and asked for some powders which Jekyll had left with Lanyon to be given to Hyde when he should call for them. Hyde, a small man, with clothes grotesquely large, eagerly seized the powder and mixed a liquid which had quickly turned from purple to green.

The man drank. He reeled. He staggered. He clutched the table. He seemed to swell. His features changed, and there before Lanyon's eyes, pale and fainting, groping before him with his hands, like a man restored to life stood Henry Jekyll.

Hyde and Jekyll were inhabitants of the same body! By the use of a drug he had been able to change from one personality to the other. Hyde was wholly evil. Jekyll, the amiable, respected professor, had but to drink that powerful drug to become the revolting Hyde.

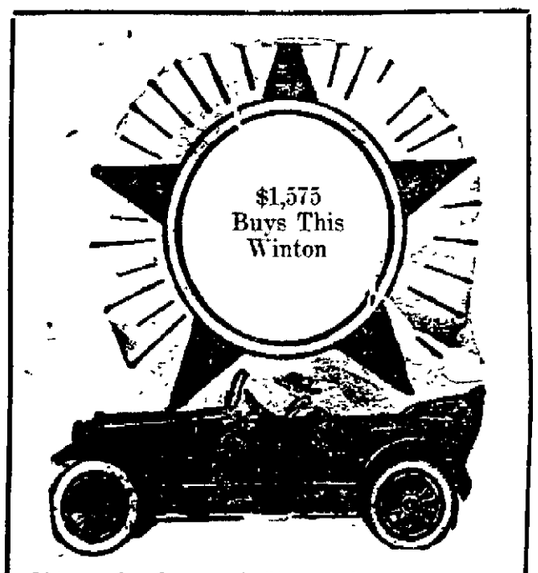
THE MOST SENSATIONAL HOUSE-CLEANING SALE OF USED CARS EVER KNOWN

FORSYTH & DAVIS MOTOR CAR CO. | 113 GREEN ST.

SALE STARTS THIS MORNING AT 8 O'CLOCK--Nothing Reserved

OUR FACTORIES ARE DELIVERING NEW CARS AND WE ARE TAKING IN SCORES OF THE FINEST CARS MADE ON OUR NEW 1920 DELIVERIES!—Each and every car is renewed complete in our own shop and delivered here to our show room floors as perfect as we can possibly make them. Automobiles that are a household word from coast to coast go on sale here this morning at prices that will prove a revelation to the entire automobile industry.



This car has been rebuilt complete, repainted, engine tuned up, valves ground, oiled, greased, filled with gas, and here it is ready to drive away, the most dazzling Automobile value in the entire stock.

WOULD YOU PAY $100, $200, $300, $400 OR $500 FOR YOUR NEIGHBOR'S CAR?—The car your neighbor bought last year and took such good care of—would you pay a few dollars for it today? You certainly would. Well, just such cars and better are here and will be sold at this sale at far less money than you expect to pay for the kind of a car that will satisfy the needs of yourself and family.

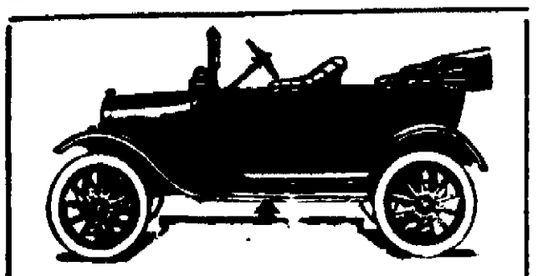
BEHIND EACH AND EVERY CAR SOLD STANDS A REPUTABLE CONCERN—Our reputation as merchants is worth more to us than the few pennies of profit that accrues to us on the sale of any car—new or renewed. And for this reason you can come here, regardless of how much or how little you know about an automobile, with the certain knowledge that you will receive fair treatment. Every dollar we have is invested in the future of this business, and as you are going to be our future customers, we naturally expect to treat you fairly.

CASH—TERMS—LIBERTY BONDS—YOU DECIDE THE MANNER OF PAYING!—At the prices we have placed on these cars, each and every one should be sold for cash, and if it comes to decide who will have any particular car, a cash buyer or a time buyer—the cash buyer wins every time—the prices are cash prices. Yes, lower than real money will buy real automobiles in any part of civilization today. Therefore, come prepared to buy—and buy for cash if you can.

TIME BUYERS!—Come early today to buy a Car!

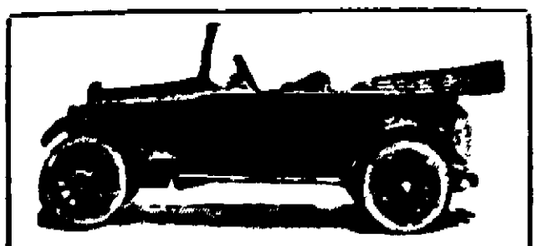
$295 SECURES THIS McFARLAN

A classy, peppy, smooth-running, powerful high-class car at a price that is incomparable. Come here and see this car, get behind the wheel, drive it a block or 100 miles and it's yours forever and a day.



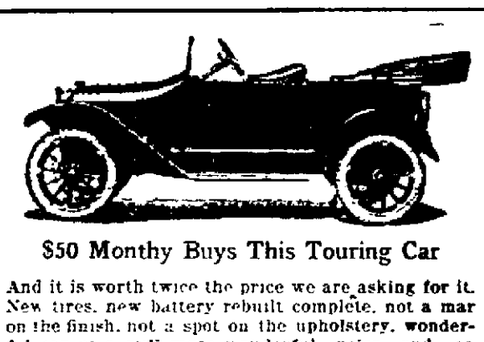
$225 SECURES THIS FORD

Pay the balance as low as ten or less monthly payments. This car has been used by a local young lady music teacher who exchanged it for a light Coupe. This car has never been off the pavements of the city streets, and you cannot go wrong. Ask for it.



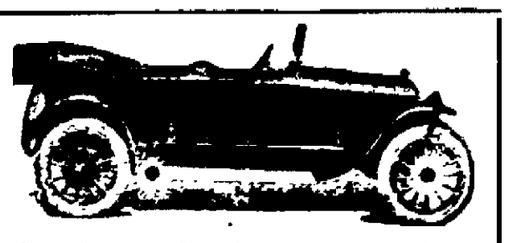
$275 SECURES THIS DODGE

Not a thing lacking, even a complete set of tools and an extra tire. Come to this sale and see this car, ride in it, have any expert examine it and the limit. But don't miss a chance to see this little outfit. Any terms within reason.



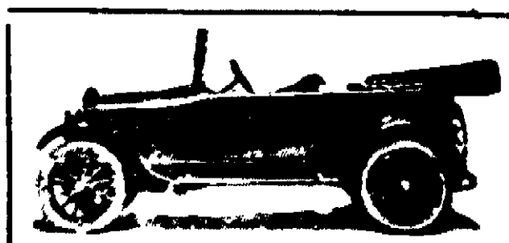
$50 Monthy Buys This Touring Car

And it is worth twice the price we are asking for it. New tires, new battery rebuilt complete, not a mar on the finish, not a spot on the upholstery, wonderful car at a still more wonderful price and on terms so low that a school boy can own it. A little down and $50 more or less monthly, according to your first payment.



$550 Secures This Magnificent Franklin

As complete and almost as perfect as the day it left the factory; in fact, we consider it better. The engine has been run just enough to give it a good workout. The body and upholstery and tires, etc., are open for inspection and you will agree that this is a bargain. Any terms within reason if you cannot pay cash.

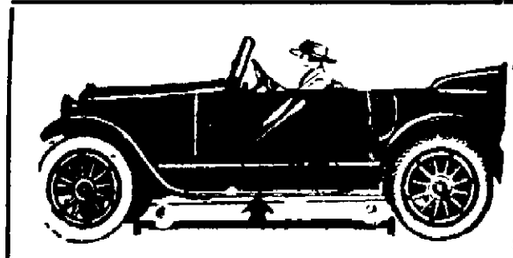


$195 Secures This Cadillac Roadster

And the balance you can divide into ten or less monthly payments or you can pay more down if you wish and reduce your monthly payments any way to suit the buyer. The car is right, the price is right, the terms are right. You are the right man for it, be here early in the morning or come tonight as you please.

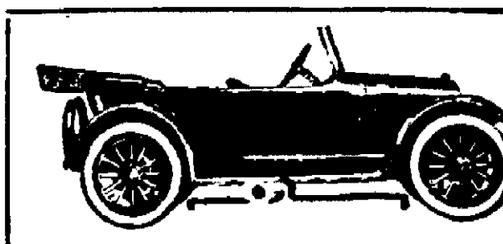
PAY FOR IT AS YOU LIKE, EVEN IN TEN MONTHS

And any terms within reason will pay for it. Yes, even ten monthly payments. But first of all see this car. If you like it, and you will, leave the rest to us. We will arrange it somehow for you.



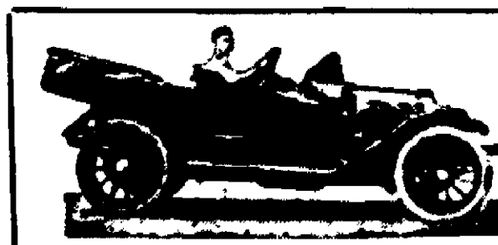
$465 BUYS THIS OVERLAND

Never a better car made at any price. Our mechanics have torn this car down and rebuilt it complete from radiator to rear axle and as it stands today we consider this the greatest car value in America. Pay half or one-third cash, balance monthly.



$325 SECURES THIS STUDEBAKER

Pay the balance in any amount of payments up to ten. This car would really be cheap at $200 more than we are asking for it. Power, pep, class, everything that goes to make a car a real car and then some.



$575 BUYS THIS CHEVROLET

Complete from tools to extra tire, as fine a car as it is possible to buy anywhere any time below the $1,000 mark. Come here and see this car. The first man that lays eyes on it, owns it. Any terms within reason will do. Liberty bonds, cash, terms to suit. At least one-half or one-third should accompany each time sale as a first payment.

The illustrations used are stock cuts, not actual photographs, therefore to get anything like an accurate idea of the wonderful values offered you should call in person at once. Liberty Bonds—cash—terms to suit. At least one-half or one-third should accompany each time sale, as a first payment.

NOTES FROM CAMP KANAPE

The first period of camp life in Camp Kanape has ended and the first group of campers has returned to their homes, all declaring they had had a very good time. The second group began to arrive at noon and by night the tents were full Several troops from Kingston, the New Paltz, and the Saugerties troops are represented this period. Mr Seward, the Scoutmaster from New Paltz is in camp with his Scouts and will remain with us for a week Scout Executive Muhleman hopes to have each of the 27 Scout troops in Ulster county represented in camp before the end of the season.

Scouts expecting to attend the camp in August will assist Mr. Muhleman greatly in making his plans for their comfort if they will send in their registrations as soon as it is possible for them to do so.

One of the most popular newcomers in camp is Mr. Flack the camp cook.

There were many visitors to the camp during the opening period, most of them parents or relatives of the boys who were in camp. Visitors are welcome. Come out and see for yourselves how the boys are situated and what is being done for their welfare

One of the interesting events of the first period was an over-night hike to the top of High Point With Howard Sherman of South Hollow as guide, Mr Muhleman and the boys made their way over the South Hollow trail to the top of the mountain where they were rewarded for their efforts by one of the most beautiful views in the Catskills Far below them stretched the blue waters of the Ashokan Reservoir, which could be seen for almost its entire length. The crater, the numerous villages in the valleys, the distant Hudson, Kingston, all received their due views were especially impressive. The Shawangunks with their beautiful hotels, the long line of Catskills from Overlook around the circle to Mombaccus, with Slide in the background towering over the tops of the other peaks, making a panorama never to be forgotten. One of the exciting events of the trip was furnished by Mr. Sherman's dog who located a porcupine which Mr. Muhleman killed When questioned as to what part of the trip they enjoyed the most, one boy said, the view of the reservoir; another liked best the mountain view; another, the hunt for the porcupine; another, the sight of the lights on Kingston's Broadway at night, another the sunrise, another the sunset; but one Scout seemed to voice the sentiments of them all when he exclaimed with great fervor; "Oh Boy; It was all great! I liked it all best!"

Electric Bulb Burst Innocently.

When an electric bulb is burst, either by design or accident, the force of the explosion is inwardly. This has been proved by poisoning the bulb with a hydrogen effect, half one color and half another. After the explosion, which may be accompanied by a vividness flame from a pistol, the colored lights will be found scattered on the floor on the opposite side from which they were originally placed.

Railroad Mystery.

Why does a train that starts out from a station as if it were really going somewhere, suddenly stop? It never goes far enough so that it couldn't have known beforehand that it might have to stop at that particular place. This being so, why doesn't the train wait until it is assured that it will go on without stopping? Nobody knows. Probably nobody will ever know.—Life.

BYRD'S LIFE TO END TONIGHT

Unless Governor Alfred E. Smith reprieves James Montague Byrd today, by request of his counsel, William H. Grogan and the Rev. J. T. Mathews, former pastor of the Franklin Street A. M. E. Zion Church, who have been making efforts to secure a stay in Byrd's behalf, he will be electrocuted tonight at the death house in Sing Sing prison. The hour for the electrocution, according to notices sent to Sheriff Smith, District Attorney Traver and William H. Grogan, his counsel, and others, is stated at 11 o'clock. Inquiry at the office of the sheriff and of the district attorney whether there would be any representative from them at the electrocution were replied to that there would be none, so far as known. From what can be learned Byrd has no father or mother living and the only relative that made any inquiry or took any interest in his case while he was in jail here was an aunt, an old lady in Virginia. Garrett Newkirk (Jack) who is the district passenger agent of the Hudson Day Line of steamers, who resides in this city, has received an invitation to attend the electrocution from Warden Lawes of Sing Sing prison and expects to be present tonight. Mr. Newkirk is a former reporter of The Freeman and assisted in reporting the trial of Byrd in court for The Freeman.

LADY HOWARD and SIR ESMOND HOWARD

The recent appointment of Sir Esmond Howard as Great Britain's new ambassador to the Court of Spain greatly pleased the ambassador's host of friends in this country. Sir Howard was formerly charge d'affaires at at British embassy in Washington, and was exceedingly popular while at the capital. His appointment to the post at Madrid is, according to London reports, in recognition of his great work at the peace conferences. In the layout is shown Sir Esmond and Lady Howard.

The Girl's Career.

We talk about the girl who chooses a career. The most wonderful and varied of all careers is that of motherhood and housekeeping, says a writer in Thrift. It is intricate, difficult and yet withal a wonderfully beautiful situation. Love must lead the way, otherwise one would be unable to cope with its problems. No profession is so varied. Not a day goes by that the mother and housekeeper does not use by actual practice most of the principles. She must have tact, patience, a knowledge of human nature, understand scientific facts and be an example of thrift. Not only go about to care for the bodies of those committed to her keeping, but be capable of training the mind and developing the souls of her children; and yet how many foolish girls feel it is a life needing no preparation.

LAWS OF NEW YORK.—By Authority.
CHAP. 673.

AN ACT to provide service badges and ribbons for officers and enlisted men of the military forces of this state who were on active duty under orders of the governor guarding public property, public utilities or other establishments necessary for the conduct of the world war, between February second, nineteen hundred and seventeen and February second, nineteen hundred and nineteen, and making an appropriation therefor.

Became a law May 10, 1920, with the approval by the Governor. Passed by a two-thirds vote.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The adjutant-general of the state shall cause to be prepared and shall distribute a suitable service badge and ribbon to each officer and enlisted man of the military forces of the state of New York who was on active duty under orders of the governor for more than thirty days guarding public property, public utilities or other establishments necessary for the conduct of the world war, between February second, nineteen hundred and seventeen, and February second, nineteen hundred and nineteen. If any such officer or enlisted man be deceased, the badge and ribbon to which he would be entitled shall be delivered to his proper legal representative.

§ 2. The sum of two thousand dollars ($2,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated for the purpose of this act out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, payable by the treasurer on the warrant of the comptroller, on the order of the adjutant-general of the state.

§ 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

AN ACT making an appropriation for the payment of the principal and interest on the debt for the Saratoga Springs state reservation, for the fiscal year beginning on the first day of July, nineteen hundred and twenty, contracted under chapter five hundred and sixty-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, as amended by chapter three hundred and ninety-four of the laws of nineteen hundred and eleven.

Became a law May 10, 1920, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. For the payment from the general fund of the principal maturing March first, nineteen hundred and twenty-one, on the debt contracted for the Saratoga Springs state reservation under chapter five hundred and sixty-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, chapter three hundred and ninety-four of the laws of nineteen hundred and eleven, the sum of ninety-five thousand dollars ($95,000) is hereby appropriated.

§ 2. For the payment from the general fund of the interest on the debt contracted for the Saratoga Springs state reservation under chapter five hundred and sixty-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, chapter three hundred and ninety-four of the laws of nineteen hundred and eleven, chapter two hundred and fifty-two of the laws of nineteen hundred and fourteen and chapter three hundred and thirty-five of the laws of nineteen hundred and fifteen, twenty thousand nine hundred and sixty dollars ($20,960) is hereby appropriated.

AN ACT to confer jurisdiction on the court of claims to rehear and determine the claims of Albert H. Ford against the state.

Became a law May 10, 1920, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Jurisdiction is hereby conferred upon the court of claims to rehear and determine the claims of Albert H. Ford for damages resulting from the alleged negligence of the state of New York, its officers, agents and servants, in the construction, use and management of its canal system in the county of Orleans, notice of intention to file said claims not having been given as is required by law, with the same force and effect as though such notice had been duly given, such jurisdiction to attach without refiling said claim.

§ 2. Nothing contained herein shall be construed as altering in any way the liability of the state with respect to said claims, the object of this act being merely to excuse and waive the failure to give notice of intention to file such claims.

AN ACT to authorize the court of claims to hear and determine a claim, filed by Erna Ellis of Glendale, in the borough of Queens, city and state of New York, for injury to property alleged to have been caused through the negligence of certain convicts, while working on the Kneeskill Clove road at Flushing, Queens county, New York.

Became a law May 10, 1920, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The court of claims is hereby authorized to hear, audit and determine a claim against the state of New York in favor of Erna Ellis, of Glendale, in the borough and county of Queens, city and state of New York, for injury and damages done to the business and superintendence thereto annexed of her said situated in the town of Flushing, Queens county, New York, and alleged to have been caused by the negligence, carelessness and improper conduct of certain convicts, in repairing work in the vicinity of the state of New York in the building and construction of the Kneeskill Clove road at Flushing, Queens county, New York, and authorize the procedure of the said Erna Ellis, during the months of November and December, nineteen hundred and fourteen, or thereabouts, and to assign judgment against the state of New York in favor of Erna Ellis, of Glendale, the claimant, for such sum as the court may determine to be justly due, but not exceeding five hundred and ten dollars, that being the sum claimed; provided such claim be filed within six months after this act takes effect. The state hereby consents to have its liability on such claim determined. Nothing herein contained shall be held as admitting the validity of such claim or any part thereof upon the state nor as waiving any defense of the state thereto, and no award shall be made on such claim except upon such legal evidence as will establish a liability against an individual or corporation in a court of law or equity; provided, however, that such claim shall not be impaired or defeated on account of the previous failure of the claimant to file the notice of intent as provided for in section two hundred and sixty-four of the code of civil procedure.

AN ACT to confer jurisdiction on the court of claims to hear, audit and determine the claim of James J. Kelly for salary as storekeeper at Sing Sing prison, from which position he was wrongfully removed and thereafter restored.

Became a law May 10, 1920, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Jurisdiction is hereby conferred on the court of claims to hear, audit and determine the claim of James J. Kelly of the county of the Bronx, formerly a storekeeper at Sing Sing prison, for salary amounting to the sum of two thousand two hundred and four dollars and fifteen cents, which would have accrued to the said James J. Kelly between the thirteenth day of October, nineteen hundred and fifteen, and the twenty-sixth day of April, nineteen hundred and seventeen, upon the ground that the said James J. Kelly was wrongfully removed from such position as storekeeper by order of the warden of such prison on or about the twenty-ninth day of December, nineteen hundred and fifteen, and thereafter and on or about the twentieth day of April, nineteen hundred and seventeen, restored to such position pursuant to an order of the appellate division of the supreme court, second department. Such facts if established shall constitute a valid claim against the state and such court may render judgment therefor in the amount hereinbefore mentioned against the state, notwithstanding the lapse of time since the accruing of such claim hereby authorized be filed with the court of claims within six months after this act takes effect and upon the payment of such claim the said James J. Kelly release the state from all claim of damages based upon the facts herein set forth.

AN ACT to confer jurisdiction on the court of claims to hear, audit and determine the claims of Horace L. Bowen and Mary E. Kimball against the state for damages alleged to have been sustained on October sixteenth, nineteen hundred and seventeen, upon a highway maintained by the state in the county of Broome.

Became a law May 10, 1920, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Jurisdiction is hereby conferred upon the court of claims to hear, audit and determine the respective claims of Horace L. Bowen and Mary E. Kimball, both of the city of Binghamton, against the state for damages alleged to have been sustained by them on the sixteenth day of October, nineteen hundred and seventeen, resulting from the alleged negligence of the state of New York in constructing, maintaining, repairing and oiling county highway number eight hundred and thirty-four in the county of Broome, the claim of said Horace L. Bowen being for damages to an automobile and of said Mary E. Kimball being for personal injuries, such claims having been heretofore filed with the court of claims on the twenty-third day of January, nineteen hundred and nineteen, and the notices of intention to file such claims having been mailed for filing before the expiration of six months after the accrual of the claims but not received or filed until shortly after the expiration of such period. Such jurisdiction shall attach without the refiling of such claims and notwithstanding the failure of the claimants to file such notices of intention within the time prescribed by law.

§ 2. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as altering in any way the liability of the state with respect to such claims, the object of this act being merely to excuse and waive the failure to give notices of intention to file such claims within the period prescribed by law.

AN ACT to confer jurisdiction on the court of claims to rehear and determine the claim of John W. Gurnett, for increased expenses incurred in the construction of the Tyrone-Reading county highway, in Schuyler county.

Became a law May 10, 1920, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Jurisdiction is hereby conferred upon the court of claims to rehear and to audit and determine the alleged claim of John W. Gurnett, contractor by assignment from Coughlin and Lowman for the construction and completion of Tyrone-Reading county highway number one-thousand and ten in the county of Schuyler, for increased expenses allowed to have been incurred by the contractor in placing upon the sub-base course of such road an additional quantity of stone for a top course, not provided for in the plans and specifications upon which the contract for such construction was let. The state hereby consents to have its liability upon such claim again determined, without the re-filing of the claim, notwithstanding the former determination of such court that the claimant was not entitled to recover, and dismissing the claim. If the court shall find that by reason of the placing of such additional stone the expense of constructing such highway was increased above the cost of construction pursuant to the plans and specifications, and that the placing of such additional stone was upon the recommendation or direction, or both, of the commissioner of highways and of an engineer of the state highway department in charge of the construction of such highway, and that it is just and equitable that said contractor be reimbursed for such additional expense, the amount of such additional expense, for both labor and material, shall constitute a legal and valid claim against the state, notwithstanding that no contract in writing for the placing of such additional stone was made between the state commissioner of highways and the said John W. Gurnett, and the court may award to and render judgment for the claimant against the state for such sum as it shall deem just and equitable, not exceeding the sum of seven thousand four hundred thirty-three dollars and thirty-four cents, with interest from the time when the construction of such highway was completed.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE MEETS

National Committee in Session to Pass on Records of Candidates in Reference to Liquor Question.

By Telegraph to The Freeman

Washington, July 22. The national executive committee of the Anti Saloon League of America met here today to pass its microscopic eye over the "wet" and "dry" records of the presidential nominees, and this being done, to determine whether the organization will take the field to prevent the election of either the one or the other

The record in congress of Senator Warren G. Harding, the Republican standard bearer, was gone over with a fine tooth comb, as well as his behavior on the prohibition issue back home in Ohio as far back as the year one of his political career

Governor James M. Cox's past was dug up and given the same close scrutiny and the liquor record of the two candidates were essayed and compared, one as against the other.

Before the committee met to place Governor Cox and Senator Harding in the balance, Ernest H. Cherrington, secretary of the committee, said a decision probably would be reached later in the day or tonight.

Should the Anti-Saloon League take a stand against one or the other candidates for the presidency, the action would be unusual, but owing to the importance attached to the "wet" and "dry" issue in the 1920 campaign, it was expected the records of the two men would at least be given wholesale publication in the newspapers and periodicals controlled by the league "to let the people judge for themselves."

The names of the members of the committee follow:

Frederick Fosdick, Fitchburg, Mass.; William H. Anderson, New York; Filmore Condit, New York; Rev. C. F. Swift, Philadelphia, Pa.; Rev. James Cannon, Jr., Richmond, Va.; James A. White, Columbus, O.; S. S. Kresge, Detroit, Mich.; A. J. Scrogin, Lexington, Ill.; H. B. Carre, Nashville, Tenn.; L. B. Musgrove, Jasper, Ala.; Rev. A. J. Barton, Alexandria, La.; Rev. Claudium Spencer, Kansas City, Mo; F. J. Vea, Stoughton, Wis.; S. K. Warrick, Scotts Bluff, Neb.; Rev. D. M. Gandier, Los Angeles, Cal.; Rev. J. S. Hoagland, Sioux Falls, S. D., and members at large, William F. Cochran, Baltimore, Md., and Peal E. Selby, Portsmouth, Ohio.

The entire committee was not present when the meeting was called to order, some having wired the secretary that it would not be possible to come to Washington.

Affiliated with the league are thousands of ministers and church workers of all denominations, and should the committee decide to oppose the selection of one or the other of the candidates, it is recognized that considerable damage could be done his chances.

The Anti-Saloon League has an organization in all the states of the union and league officials claim a million circulation for its publications.

Prior to the meeting, however, there was no indication that the committee had any "leanings" in favor or against either Cox of Harding.

ELLENVILLE HEARS AUTO CLUB PLANS

Ellenville was visited Wednesday evening by about two dozen members of the Ulster County Automobile Club, which is conducting a series of meetings throughout the county in its campaign for new members, and a large and enthusiastic meeting was held in the Memorial Hall.

With more than five thousand automobiles owned in Ulster county, the club believes that its membership should be larger in order that legislation which will be of benefit to automobile owners may be encouraged and adverse matters may be combatted successfully. At present this work devolves on a comparatively few automobile owners, who, however are acting in the interests of all motorists

The Automobile Club is in favor of legislation which will eliminate the road hog and will prevent careless and reckless driving. The work of the state troopers in cooperating throughout the state with automobile clubs in minimizing the dangers attendant upon the recklessness of the road hog was strongly commended by the speakers, who urged that all motorists take an active interest in the automobile club.

The speakers at Wednesday evening's meeting included Dr. H. F. Meinhardt, secretary of the automobile club; William B. Bennett, William R. Harrison, Robert E. Leighton, Elva H. Bogart and Deputy County Clerk Walter G. Geroldsek.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, July 22.—The Republican caucus will be held in Every's garage Saturday evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of electing a delegate to the county convention. All voters who believe in the principles of the Republican party and are not enrolled in any other party are entitled to vote.

An urn filled with choice flowers was robbed recently and the owner would give $50 to know who the party was that did the deed. A watch is being kept and the thief will be severely dealt with if caught. It seems a pity people that keep their places looking exceptionally good have to be annoyed in this way.

Prayer service will be held in the Methodist Church this evening at 8 o'clock. The theme is "Overflowing Sympathy." Everyone invited to this service.

Mrs. Arthur Jones and daughter, Miss Ella Jones of Kingston, were guests of Mrs. Ella Farnbecker on Salem street Tuesday evening and attended the community cafeteria supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Foote and son, Clarence Foote, and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Foote have sold their residence on Hamilton street and purchased a fruit farm at Barrytown. They moved to their new home today. We are sorry to lose these families from Port Ewen as they were good citizens and have many friends here who will miss them but wish them good luck in their new venture.

Lloyd D. Trall has started a taxi service from Port Ewen to the chain ferry. Long trips a specialty. Telephone 1869-J.

The mid-week prayer service will be held as usual in the Reformed Church at 8 o'clock. Subject, "The Christian's Influence—Salt of the Earth—Light of the World." Matt. 5:12-16. All are cordially invited.

Atharhacton Rebekah Lodge, No. 257, 14 Henry street.

There was a meeting of the former members of the C. M. B. A., now merged with the American Insurance Union, at St. Mary's Hall on Tuesday evening at which much pleasure was manifested by the members, when they know they are in a good solvent fraternal order. This organization has had a rapid growth in the west and has now been granted a license from the state commissioner of insurance to do business in New York state. The following officers were elected by the local Chapter, No. 3133: M. J. Powers, president; David J. Leach, vice-president; James C. Hurley, recording secretary; M. E. Davitt, treasurer.

Zuzus Defeat Eagles.

The Zuzu baseball team defeated the fast Victory Eagles by the score of 2-1. The battery for the Zuzus were John Spader and William Nawe and the battery for Victory Eagles, [illegible], Van Wagenen, McAuliffe, Burger. John Spader pitched a wonderful ball. He had 13 strike outs to his credit. There will be a game Thursday night, the 22nd, between the Zuzu team and Fidow's Pets.

Good Word for the Parrot.

Testy people consider the parrot a nuisance and the loquacious bird has often engendered legal strife, but to the facetious person he is an endless source of amusement. He has an inherent weakness for profanity, which is apt to be embarrassing, but a man who has not tasted spirituous liquors never craves them, and a parrot who has not heard profanity will not long for it as the best medium of expressing his sentiments. In this respect he promotes culture and refinement in the home.

AN ACT to amend the labor law, in relation to physical examination of children in factories and mercantile establishments.

Became a law May 10, 1920, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows

Section 1. Section seventy-six-a of chapter thirty six of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act relating to labor, constituting chapter thirty-one of the consolidated laws," as added by chapter two hundred of the laws of nineteen hundred and thirteen, is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 76-a. Physical examination of children in factories or mercantile establishments; cancellation of employment certificates. 1. All children between fourteen and sixteen years of age employed in factories or mercantile establishments shall submit to a physical examination whenever required by a medical inspector of the state industrial commission. The result of all such physical examinations shall be recorded on blanks furnished for that purpose by the industrial commission and shall be kept on file in such office or offices as the industrial commission may designate.

2. If any such child shall fail to submit to such physical examination, the industrial commission may issue an order cancelling such child's employment certificate. Such order shall be served upon the employer of such child who shall forthwith deliver to an authorized representative of the industrial commission the child's employment certificate. A certified copy of the order of cancellation shall be served on the board of health or other local authority that issued the said certificate. No such child whose employment certificate has been cancelled as aforesaid, shall while said cancellation remains unrevoked, be permitted or suffered to work in any factory or mercantile establishment of the state before it attains the age of sixteen years. If thereafter such child shall submit to the physical examination required, the industrial commission may issue an order revoking the cancellation of the employment certificate and may return the employment certificate to such child. Copies of the order of revocation shall be served upon the former employer of the child and the local board of health as aforesaid

3. If as a result of the physical examination made by a medical inspector it appears that the child is physically unfit to be employed in a factory or mercantile establishment such medical inspector shall forthwith submit a report to that effect to the industrial commission which shall be kept on file in the office of the industrial commission setting forth in detail his reasons therefor, and the industrial commission may issue an order cancelling the employment certificate of such child. Such order of cancellation shall be served, and the child's employment certificate delivered up, as provided in subdivision two hereof, and no such child while the said order of cancellation remains unrevoked shall be permitted or suffered to work in any factory or mercantile establishment of the state before it attains the age of sixteen years. If upon a subsequent physical examination of the child by a medical inspector of the industrial commission it appears that the physical infirmities have been removed such medical inspector shall certify to that effect to the industrial commission and the industrial commission may thereupon make an order revoking the cancellation of the employment certificate and may return the certificate to such child. The order of revocation shall be served in the manner provided in subdivision two hereof

§ 2. This act shall take effect July first, nineteen hundred and twenty.

AN ACT to amend the labor law, in relation to the powers and duties of the industrial board

Became a law May 10, 1920, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section fifty-two-a of chapter thirty-six of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act relating to labor, constituting chapter thirty-one of the consolidated laws," as added by chapter seven hundred and nineteen of the laws of nineteen hundred and fifteen, is hereby renumbered section fifty-two-d, and as thus renumbered, is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 52-d. Variations. If there shall be practical difficulties or unnecessary hardship in carrying out any provision of this chapter, or rule or regulation adopted by the industrial commission thereunder, affecting the construction or alteration of buildings, exits therefrom, the installation of fixtures and apparatus, or the safeguarding of machinery and prevention of accidents, the industrial commission shall have power to make a variation from such requirements if the spirit of the provision or rule or regulation shall be observed and public safety secured. Any person affected by such provision or rule or regulation, or his agent, may petition the board for such variation stating the grounds therefor. The commission shall fix a day within a reasonable time for a hearing on such petition and give notice thereof to the petitioner who may appear in person or by agent or attorney. If the commission shall permit such variation it shall be in the form of a resolution and such variation shall apply to all buildings, installations or conditions where the facts are substantially the same as those stated in the petition. At least three affirmative votes shall be necessary for the adoption of any such resolution. Such resolution shall contain a description of the conditions under which such variation shall be permitted and shall be published in the bulletin of the department. Where the variation affects premises or conditions in the city of New York it shall also be published in the City Record of New York city. A record of all such variations shall be kept in the office of the industrial commission and shall be properly indexed under section numbers of the law or industrial code to which each variation applies and shall be open to public inspection during business hours

§ 2. Section fifty-two-d of such chapter, as added by chapter six hundred and seventy-four of the laws of nineteen hundred and fifteen, is hereby repealed

§ 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

AN ACT to amend chapter one hundred and forty-six of the laws of nineteen hundred and seventeen, entitled "An act making an appropriation to acquire lands for state park purposes within the forest preserve counties to carry out the provisions of chapter five hundred and sixty-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred and sixteen, and providing the method for such acquisition" as amended by chapter ten of the laws of nineteen hundred and eighteen, in relation to the payment of moneys

Became a law May 10, 1920 with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows

Section 1. Section three of chapter one hundred and forty-six of the laws of nineteen hundred and seventeen, as amended by chapter ten of the laws of nineteen hundred and eighteen, is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 3. The moneys appropriated by this act shall be available for the payment of the contract price of such lands as may be acquired hereunder by purchase, or for interest upon such contract price, or for taxes levied upon such lands, or for the payment of judgments of the court of claims in the case of lands acquired hereunder by entry and appropriation, or for the expense of inspection of lands offered for such purchase or so purchased or otherwise acquired, or for the expense of the examination or approval of the title to or conveyance of such lands, or for any other expense necessarily incurred as an incident to the acquisition of lands pursuant to chapter five hundred and sixty-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred and sixteen and acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, provided however, that no moneys shall be paid out for any such purpose, other than to pay judgments of the court of claims, except upon the warrant and audit of the comptroller and only after submission to him of vouchers therefor approved by the conservation commission and by the commissioners of the land office, accompanied, in the case of payments of the purchase price of lands acquired by contract, with the certificate of the attorney-general approving the title to and the form of the conveyance of the lands purchased. Judgments of the court of claims under section fifty-nine of the conservation law shall be paid as therein provided, except that no judgments of the court of claims shall be paid without the certificate of the attorney-general approving the title to the lands for the appropriation of which such judgment was rendered. In the case of lands acquired by purchase, legal interest and the taxes paid upon such lands from and after six months from the date of the approval of the purchase by the commissioners of the land office, shall be paid to the owner thereof, in cases where the owner submits to the attorney-general satisfactory evidence of title within six months after notice so to do. No interest or taxes shall be paid upon lands, the purchase price of which has been already paid.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

AN ACT to amend the stock corporation law, in relation to the incurring of debts by corporations authorized to issue shares without nominal or par value

Became a law May 10, 1920, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section twenty of chapter sixty-one of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act relating to stock corporations, constituting chapter fifty-nine of the consolidated laws," as added by chapter three hundred and fifty-one of the laws of nineteen hundred and twelve, is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 20. Authorized debts. No corporation authorized to issue shares without nominal or par value shall, until its stated capital shall have been fully paid in, incur any debts in excess of the amount of capital paid in at the time such debts are contracted. In case of an increase of stated capital, such increase of stated capital shall be deemed paid in to the extent of the amount of the assets which the corporation has in money and property in excess of the former stated capital. The directors of the corporation assenting to the creation of any debt in violation of this section shall be liable jointly and severally for the debts of such corporation; but no action shall be brought under the foregoing provision of this section unless within one year after the debt shall have been incurred the creditor shall have served upon the director written notice of intention to hold him personally liable for such debt. Any director who, because of any such liability under this section, shall pay any debt of the corporation, shall be subrogated to all rights of the creditor in respect thereof against the corporation and its property and also shall be entitled to contribution from all other directors of the corporation similarly liable for the same debt and the personal representative of any such director who shall have died before making such contribution.

No such corporation shall declare any dividend which shall reduce the amount of its capital below the amount stated in the certificate as the amount of capital with which the corporation will carry on business. In case any such dividend shall be declared, the directors in whose administration the same shall have been declared, except those who may have caused their dissent therefrom to be entered upon the minutes of such directors at the time or who were not present when such action was taken, shall be liable jointly and severally to such corporation and to the creditors thereof to the full amount of any loss sustained by such corporation or by its creditors respectively by reason of such dividend.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately

AN ACT to amend the stock corporation law in relation to conferring upon holders of bonds the right to convert the principal thereof into stock

Became a law May 10, 1920, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows

Section 1. Section six of chapter sixty-one of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act relating to stock corporations, constituting chapter fifty-nine of the consolidated laws," is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 6. Power to borrow money and mortgage property. In addition to the powers conferred by the general corporation law every stock corporation shall have the power to borrow money and contract debts when necessary for the transaction of its business, or for the exercise of its corporate rights, privileges or franchises or for any other lawful purpose of its incorporation, and it may issue and dispose of its obligations for any amount so borrowed, and it may mortgage its property and franchises to secure the payment of such obligations, or of any debt contracted for said purposes. Every such mortgage except purchase-money mortgages and mortgages authorized by contracts made prior to May first, eighteen hundred and ninety-one, shall be consented to by the holders of not less than two-thirds of the capital stock of the corporation, or, if the corporation is authorized to issue shares without nominal or par value, then by the holders of two thirds of the total number of shares issued and outstanding, which consent shall be given either in writing or by vote at a special meeting of the stockholders called for that purpose, upon the same notice as that required for the annual meetings of the corporation; and a certificate under the seal of the corporation that such consent was given by the stockholders in writing, or that it was given by vote at a meeting as aforesaid, shall be subscribed and acknowledged by the president or a vice-president and by the secretary or an assistant secretary, of the corporation, and shall be filed and recorded in the office of the clerk or register of the county wherein the corporation has its principal place of business When authorized by like consent, the directors under such regulations as they may adopt, may confer on the holder of any debt or obligation, whether secured or unsecured, evidenced by bonds of the corporation, the right to convert the principal thereof, within such period as may be fixed by the resolution of the directors conferring the right of conversion, into stock of the corporation.

1. If the corporation has a capital stock all of the shares of which have a nominal or par value and if the capital stock shall not be sufficient to meet the conversion when made, the directors shall from time to time, authorize an increase of capital stock sufficient for that purpose by causing to be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and a duplicate thereof in the office of the clerk of the county where the principal place of business of the corporation shall be located, a certificate under the seal of the corporation, subscribed and acknowledged by the president and secretary of the corporation setting forth.

a. A copy of the resolution of directors authorizing the conversion of such bonds.

b That the holders of not less than two-thirds of the capital stock of the corporation duly consented to the adoption of such resolution;

c. A copy of the resolution of the directors of the corporation authorizing the increase of the capital stock of the corporation necessary for the purpose of such conversion;

d. The amount of capital theretofore authorized, the proportion thereof actually issued and the amount of the increased capital stock.

If the corporation be a railroad corporation the certificate shall have indorsed thereon the approval of the public service commission having jurisdiction thereof. When such certificate has been filed, the capital stock of such corporation shall be increased to the amount specified in such certificate

2. If the corporation is authorized to issue shares without nominal or par value, and the number of shares which it is authorized to issue shall not be sufficient to meet the conversion when made, the directors shall, from time to time, authorize an increase of the number of shares sufficient for that purpose by causing to be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and a duplicate thereof in the office of the clerk of the county where the principal place of business of the corporation shall be located, a certificate under the seal of the corporation, subscribed and acknowledged by the president and secretary of the corporation, setting forth.

a. A copy of the resolution of the directors authorizing the conversion of such bonds:

b. That the holders of not less than two-thirds of the total number of shares issued and outstanding duly consented to the adoption of such resolution;

c. A copy of the resolution of the directors authorizing the increase of the number of shares, and, if necessary, the amount of the stated capital, requisite for the conversion:

d. The number of shares theretofore authorized and the number actually issued, the total number of shares which the corporation shall thenceforth be authorized to issue and the amount of capital with which it will thenceforth carry on the business, which amount shall bear the same relation to the total number of authorized shares as is required by subdivision two of section nineteen of the stock corporation law.

When such certificate has been filed, the number of shares, or stated capital, or both, of such corporation, shall be increased as specified in such certificate.

§ 2 This act shall take effect immediately.

LAWS OF NEW YORK.—By Authority. CHAP. 608.

AN ACT to amend the stock corporation law, in relation to the issuance of shares of capital stock without par value.

Became a law May 10, 1920, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section nineteen of chapter sixty-one of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act relating to stock corporations, constituting chapter fifty-nine of the consolidated laws," as added by chapter three hundred and fifty-one of the laws of nineteen hundred and twelve, as amended by chapter five hundred of the laws of nineteen hundred and seventeen, is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 19. Issuance of shares of stock without nominal or par value. Upon the formation or the reorganization of any stock corporation, other than a moneyed corporation, and other than a corporation under the jurisdiction of any public service commission, the certificate of incorporation may provide for the issuance of the shares of stock of such corporation, other than preferred stock having a preference as to principal, without any nominal or par value, by stating in such certificate:

(1) The number of shares that may be issued by the corporation, and if any of such shares be preferred stock, the preferences thereof. If such preferred stock or any part thereof shall have a preference as to principal, the certificate shall state the amount of such preferred stock having such preference, the particular character of such preferences, and the amount of each share thereof, which shall be five dollars or some multiple of five dollars but not more than one hundred dollars.

(2) The amount of capital with which the corporation will carry on business, which amount shall be not less than the amount of preferred stock (if any) authorized to be issued with a preference as to principal, and in addition thereto a sum equivalent to five dollars for every share authorized to be issued other than such preferred stock; but in no event shall the amount of such capital be less than five hundred dollars.

Such statements in the certificates shall be in lieu of any statements prescribed by the law under which the corporation shall have been formed or reorganized as to the amount or the maximum amount of its capital stock or the number of shares into which the same shall be divided, or of the amount or the par value of such shares.

Each share of such stock without nominal or par value shall be equal to every other share of such stock, subject to the preferences given to the preferred stock if any authorized to be issued. Every certificate for such shares without nominal or par value shall have plainly written or printed upon its face the number of such shares which it represents and the number of such shares which the corporation is authorized to issue, and no such certificate shall express any nominal or par value of such shares. The certificate for preferred shares having a preference as to principal shall state briefly the amount which the holders of each of such preferred shares shall be entitled to receive on account of principal from the surplus assets of the corporation in preference to the holders of other shares, and shall state briefly any other rights or preferences given to the holders of such shares.

Such corporation may issue and may sell its authorized shares, from time to time, for such consideration as may be prescribed in the certificate of incorporation, or for such consideration as shall be the fair market value of such shares, and, in the absence of fraud in the transaction, the judgment of the board of directors as to such value shall be conclusive; or for such consideration as shall be consented to by the holders of two-thirds of each class of shares then outstanding at a meeting called for that purpose in such manner as shall be prescribed by the by-laws. Any and all shares issued as permitted by this section shall be deemed fully paid and nonassessable and the holder of such shares shall not be liable to the corporation or to its creditors in respect thereof.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

AN ACT to amend the stock corporation law, in relation to issuance of preferred and common stock.

Became a law May 10, 1920, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows

Section 1. Section sixty-one of chapter sixty-one of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act relating to stock corporations, constituting chapter fifty-nine of the consolidated laws," as amended by chapter five hundred and forty-two of the laws of nineteen hundred and seventeen, is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 61. Preferred and common stock. Every domestic stock corporation may issue preferred stock and common stock and different classes of preferred stock, if the certificate of incorporation so provides, or

1. By the unanimous consent of the stockholders expressed in writing and filed in the office of the secretary of state and in the office of the clerk of the county in which the principal business office of the corporation is located, or

2. By the consent of the holders of record of two-thirds of the capital stock, given at a meeting called for that purpose upon notice such as is required for the annual meeting of the corporation. A certificate of the proceedings of such meeting, signed and sworn to by the president or a vice-president, and by the secretary or assistant secretary, of the corporation, shall be filed and recorded in the offices where the original certificate of incorporation of such corporation was filed and recorded; and the corporation may, upon the written request of the holders of any preferred stock, by a two-thirds vote of its directors, exchange the same for common stock, and issue certificates for common stock therefor, upon such valuation as may have been agreed upon in the certificate of organization of such corporation, or the issue of such preferred stock, or share for share, but the total amount of such capital stock shall not be increased thereby.

This section shall apply to any domestic stock corporation whether organized under a general or special law, and any such corporation may issue preferred stock and common stock as herein provided notwithstanding provisions relating to the issuance of stock now prescribed by any other law.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

AN ACT to amend the education law, in relation to a bureau of compulsory education, school census and child welfare.

Became a law May 10, 1920, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Article thirty-three-a of chapter twenty-one of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act relating to education, constituting chapter sixteen of the consolidated laws," as such chapter was amended by chapter one hundred and forty of the laws of nineteen hundred and ten, and such article as added by chapter seven hundred and eighty-six of the laws of nineteen hundred and seventeen, is hereby amended by inserting therein a new section, to be section eight hundred and seventy-one-a, to read as follows:

§ 871-a. Bureau of compulsory education, school census and child welfare. In a city having a population of one million or more there shall be a bureau of compulsory education, school census and child welfare. Said bureau shall consist of a director, an assistant director, a chief attendance officer, and such other supervisors, attendance officers, enumerators, clerks and other employees as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of articles twenty-two, twenty-three and twenty-four of the education law, and to perform other and related duties imposed by the provisions of any other statutes or requirements of the board of education. Attendance officers and supervising attendance officers of every grade shall be appointed from eligible lists prepared in the same manner and by the same authority as are eligible lists for teachers and subjects likewise to the provisions of section eight hundred and seventy-two as to tenure of office; but an eligible list for attendance officers in existence when this act takes effect shall be exhausted before nominations are made from an eligible list subsequently established. Those persons who as the result of appointment or assignment are serving in any of the positions hereinbefore described when this act goes into effect shall hold their respective positions during good behavior and efficient and competent service and shall not be removable except for cause after a hearing by a majority vote of the board of education. The director of said bureau shall have power to commit and parole truant and delinquent children in the manner provided by section six hundred and thirty-five of the education law but this authority may be delegated in his absence or disability as the board of education shall provide. The superintendent of schools shall have general supervision of the bureau of compulsory education, school census and child welfare.

§ 2. Chapter four hundred and seventy-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred and fourteen is hereby repealed.

§ 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

AN ACT to amend the agricultural law, in relation to adulterated apples.

Became a law May 10, 1920, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Subdivisions second, fourth and fifth of section two hundred and sixty-two of chapter nine of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act in relation to agriculture, constituting chapter one of the consolidated laws," as last amended by chapter three hundred and forty-five of the laws of nineteen hundred and seventeen, are hereby amended to read, respectively, as follows:

Second: "New York standard A grade" shall consist of apples of one variety which are well grown specimens, hand-picked, properly packed, normal shape, practically free from dirt, diseases, insect and fungus injury, bruises and other defects except such as are necessarily caused in the operation of packing, or apples of one variety which are not more than ten per centum below the foregoing specifications on a combination of all defects or five per centum on any single defect. No apples in this grade shall show less than thirty-three and one-third per centum of good color for the variety.

Fourth: "New York standard C grade" shall consist of apples of one variety which are well matured, hand-picked, properly packed, practically normal shape, and the apples constituting the face end shall be an average of the apples contained in the package. Such package must comply with the markings of the barrel which shall include the packer's name and address, the minimum size and the words "New York standard C grade."

* So in original.

Fifth: "Unclassified." Apples not conforming to the foregoing specifications of grade, or, if conforming, are not marked in accordance therewith, shall be classed as "unclassified" and so branded. The minimum size of the fruit in the package shall also be branded upon it as hereinafter specified and in addition to the other marks hereinafter required and the apples constituting the face end shall be an average of the apples contained in the package.

§ 2. This act shall take effect August first, nineteen hundred and twenty.

Became a law May 10, 1920, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section thirty-five of chapter fifty-eight of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act in relation to state finance, constituting chapter fifty-six of the consolidated laws," is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 35. Indebtedness not to be contracted without appropriation. A state officer, employee, board, department or commission shall not contract indebtedness on behalf of the state, nor assume to bind the state, in an amount in excess of money appropriated or otherwise lawfully available. This section shall not apply to a case where a statute expressly authorizes the making of a contract or contracts for a stated maximum amount which exceeds the money appropriated or otherwise available for payment thereon.

AN ACT to amend the general municipal law, in relation to acquisition of lands and erection of memorial buildings in commemoration of the service of soldiers, sailors and marines in the world war.

Became a law May 10, 1920, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Chapter twenty-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act relating to municipal corporations, constituting chapter twenty-four of the consolidated laws," is hereby amended by inserting therein a new section after section seventy-two-a, to be section seventy-two-b thereof, to read as follows

§ 72-b. Acquisition of lands and erection of memorial buildings. The governing board of a town or village may, upon the adoption of a proposition therefor by a majority vote of the electors of any such town or village qualified to vote upon the submission of propositions, acquire lands and erect a memorial building in commemoration of the services of the soldiers, sailors and marines of the world war at a total cost of not to exceed one per centum of the assessed valuation of any such town or village. Such proposition may be submitted by the governing board and shall be submitted upon the petition of fifteen resident taxpayers and shall be submitted in the same manner as other town or village propositions are submitted. For the purpose of paying for the purchase and erection of such memorial the governing board of any such town or village is hereby authorized to borrow upon the credit of such town or village a sum not exceeding one per centum of its assessed valuation upon terms of credit not exceeding thirty years and at a rate of interest not exceeding five per centum per annum; and to secure the payment of such loan, may issue bonds of such town or village payable in such amounts and at such respective times as shall be determined upon the submission of such proposition. The moneys so borrowed shall be appropriated for the expense of securing a site and the erection of such memorial and for no other purpose. No bonds shall be sold for less than par and when sold shall be valid and subsisting obligations of such town or village. The governing board of any such town or village shall cause such sums to be raised by tax, as may be necessary to provide for the payment of the principal and interest of such bonds as the same shall become due; such tax to be levied and collected in the same manner as other town or village taxes are levied and collected.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

MURDERER MOYLE HAS CONFESSED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Middletown, N. Y., July 22.—After being confined in the Goshen jail since Monday, Henry Moyle, a farmer of New Windsor, has confessed to having murdered Mrs. Rose Terwilliger, his housekeeper, a week ago, it was learned today.

BRYAN MUM ON DRY NOMINATION

By Telegraph to The Freeman:

Lincoln, Neb., July 22.—No word has yet been received by the National Prohibition Convention leaders in answer to a telegram sent to William Jennings Bryan, notifying him on his nomination. Duplicate telegrams were sent to Pony, where he was supposed to lecture last evening and the Bozeman, Montana, where the Commoner was supposed to be today.

It was learned here today that Mr. Bryan left Pony, where he lectured last evening, before the telegram was delivered and would not know of the convention's selection until he returned to Boseman, early this morning.

Most of the convention leaders spent the night around headquarters waiting for the reply.

The platform committee was the only group able to carry on its work. The members continued in session until 3 a. m. and then joined the crowds in the hotel lobbies and at the telegraph stations. All work will remain at a standstill until word is received from the Commoner. This is expected any minute.

FOURTH OUTDOOR SERVICE SUNDAY

The fourth of the series of open air devotional services at the corner of Broadway and Pine Grove avenue will be held Sunday evening at 7:45 o'clock with Rev. Putnam Cady as the speaker and his subject "Get Right With God." These services are proving increasingly popular, a notable feature being the singing which on Sunday will be in charge of Frank R. Powley with a large chorus.

The announcement of the Rev. Putnam Cady, who had traveled widely, as the speaker for this service forecasts another good attendance as he has lost none of his proven ability to hold the attention of his hearers on the lecture platform or in the pulpit.

There will be seats for all, and if stormy the service will be held in the Y. M. C. A.

Black Dirt Belt Hit.

For the second successive year Orange county has suffered evere loss in its black dirt land crops as the result of the excessive rains of the past several weeks. The loss this year runs into the hundreds of thousands of dollars and because the land has been unable to absorb the abnormal fall of water and is now submerged beneath it, several truck producers have suffered the loss of their entire crops, caught as they were in the prime of the growing season.

POLAND WILL ASK ARMISTICE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, July 22—The Polish National Council of Defense has decided to make overtures to Moscow for an armistice at once on the Russo-Polish battle front, said a Warsaw dispatch today to the Jewish delegation that is attending the International Zionist Conference. It was said that the offer would be sent by wireless as the quickest means of getting it to the attention of the soviet government.

It was learned from the same source that the Polish National Council of Defense has decided to create a new government at Warsaw, to include all parties, but with a majority from the workmen's and peasants' parties

ALLEGE PLAN TO RESTRICT OUTPUT.

Department of Justice Officials Charge That Manufacturers' Scheme to Create Artificial Shortage of Goods.

By Telegraph to The Freeman:

Washington, July 22.—Officials of the department of justice today accused manufacturers of clothing and other necessities, who, they charge are "cutting down production to keep up the high prices which they have been predicting will prevail in the fall."

Armin W. Riley, former chief of the department of justice's "flying squadron" and now in charge of the sugar situation declared that such deliberate restricted output when the demand still exceeds the supply, is a violation of the law.

He explained, however, that the recent action of the courts in freeing big woolen manufacturers in Massachusetts, from charges of violating the Lever act, have temporarily robbed the department of its principal weapon. An appeal has been taken by the prosecution, but until this appeal comes before the court, no further action can be taken.

Howard E. Figg, special assistant to Attorney General Palmer, in active charge of the campaign against the high cost of living, charged the manufacturers as having given as their excuse for high prices that the demand exceeded the supply and now when the public stops buying and the manufacturers have a chance to catch up, they deliberately cut their production still further, laying off men and closing their shops," he added.

That the manufacturers are afraid of approaching conditions is admitted by officials here. Manufacturers of clothing, hosiery, underwear, sox, millinery and virtually all such lines, are alarmed at the public's refusal to buy, and accordingly are governed by this factor. Retailers, it was said, equally disconcerted, are cancelling their orders, already placed, in large numbers, one estimate being that probably 70 per cent of the retailers who have placed orders have afterwards cancelled them. Many have not placed any orders, simply making commitments for goods from day to day.

BELFAST FIGHT EBBS AND FLOWS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, July 22.—Three more persons were killed today in a renewal of fighting between Sinn Feiners and Unionists at Belfast, according to a dispatch from that city today.

The trouble had spread from the Sinn Fein section into the Orange quarter of the city. Firing was in progress during the morning.

The trouble began yesterday with a clash between Sinn Fein and Unionist workmen which made it necessary to rush troop reinforcements into the city. One person was killed and 30 wounded early in the night when troops fired upon a mob, according to an earlier dispatch from Belfast.

A dispatch from Belfast at noon said that quiet had been restored. A revised list of casualties put the number of wounded at 40. One woman was killed.

The slain woman was killed while carrying a baby in her arms. She was en route to a hospital where the baby's mother was dying.

The streets of Belfast are being patrolled by troops from Holyrood and Newton.

Trouble between Sinn Feiners and Unionists at the Belfast ship yards was averted by the fact that many workmen failed to appear for work.

A Belfast dispatch to the Star at two o'clock this afternoon said that trouble had again broken out and that troops fired several rounds into a crowd after the soldiers had been stoned.

The Belfast correspondent of the Central News reported this afternoon that a soldier and several civilians had been wounded in a fresh outbreak of disorders. The post office at Falls Road was wrecked.

Hit by Automobile.

Levi Miller a Prudential insurance agent, was hit by an automobile this morning at 10 o'clock at the corner of Broadway and Main. As Mr. Miller was crossing the street in the Connelly drug store the car, said to be owned by Brooklyn people, struck him. Mr. Miller received slight injuries to one of his legs and was taken home by the automobile party. The license number on the machine was 283-557.

NURSE'S DEMONSTRATION.

At New Paltz Interests Many—Dr. Croff at Next Meeting.

There was an unusually large number of interested women at the last meeting and demonstration of the home nursing course being conducted by the home bureau at New Paltz. The subject was the "Care of the Patient and Sick Room." Mrs. Frank Mentz of Wallkill, a trained nurse, with an unusual ability for giving interesting and instructive demonstrations, took up this subject in her usual inimitable way—including bed making for the patient, bathing the patient, taking pulse and temperature, and giving instructions on many other points a home nurse should know.

The meeting was held in the Grange Hall and the equipment for the demonstration had been very efficiently and attractively arranged by a part of the New Paltz committee delegated for this work. They were Mrs. A. E. Jansen, Mrs. Fred DuBois and Mrs. Bert Malcolm.

The next meeting of this home nursing course will take place Thursday, July 22, at 3 o'clock, new time, in the Grange Hall. Dr. Carro C. Croff of Buffalo will give the talk on the subject of "How to Keep Well" and especially as it relates to our health in the future. This meeting is for women and girls over sixteen.

AT THE THEATERS.

"Water, Water, Everywhere" is a Great Entertainment.

In the role of Billy Fortune, Will Rogers again scores heavily. A unique type of hero—and an irresistible one—Rogers plays in "Water, Water, Everywhere" at Keeney's tonight, the same rugged humanness, the same bashful and infectious smile and the same unaffected sincerity that resulted in his meteoric rise to the pinnacle of public favor. In this latest production Mr. Rogers for the first time in his screen career, is given opportunity to display his daring horsemanship, resulting in some decidedly thrilling and funny bits of business. Also a Sunshine comedy with an ocean of pretty girls, the Gaumont news weekly and Outing Chester's vacation scenes. Tomorrow the great Griffith super-special, "Scarlet Days."

Wilfred Lucas and Naomi Childers in "The Girl From Nowhere," at the Auditorium tonight and William S. Hart in "Taming the Four Flusher" offers a double feature attraction and both exceptionally good photoplays. Tomorrow Harry Morey in "The Darkest Hour."

Nothing but Emptiness.

A little girl, a neighbor of mine, went to the country with me last summer. When we were out of doors looking around the first day, the immensity of the sky seemed to amaze her. "Oo-o-o!" she cried, stretching her little arms wide and looking up if to embrace all nature. "Where's everywhere gone to?" —Exchange.

Words That Resist Decay.

The use of words in advertising has caused experiments to be made regarding the resistance to decay of various words. Spruce, which has been extensively used in airplane construction, is not particularly durable. Fuzzy Oxford cotton, Southern cypress and California redwood are very resistant to decay.

THE BET WAS PAID.

Saugertiesians Receive Check and Letter of Condolence.

William Winter, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Ulster county dinner, has forwarded to one Saugertiesian "substantial" winnings, and to another resident of that village a letter of sympathy on his loss. It seems that after the dinner of the society last winter, to be exact the morning of January 16, 1920, a party of Ulster countyites adjourned to a restaurant to get a bite to "eat." It was not long before all were seated around a long table and the conversation by the married men was on how much nicer and happier their lot was than that of the single fellow. It remained for the secretary to back up the unmarried man and tell of the happiness that he gets which is denied the married man as a matter of course. However, not being guided in any degree by the secretary's remarks, but pinning his faith to an extent that knew no bounds, the man from Saugerties willingly backed his belief with a five-to-one shot that the secretary would be married within six months from that very minute, and turned deaf ears to all words of counsel even from the secretary. The man taking the bet even advised against so rash an act, but when he saw determination on the countenance of the proposer, asked him to increase it, because he knew of no easier way to make money than to place it on Joe not getting married, as it was an easy matter to sidetrack him when it came right down to fish or cut bait. The bet was made and on the advice of a Saugerties attorney William Winter was selected as the keeper of the money for six months, being granted the interest. Mr. Winter did not forward the money until he searched the marriage license bureau in New York and became convinced that no record was there of a license issued to the secretary.

Dance at Kingston Point.

A grand mid-summer dance and festival will be held at the Casino at Kingston Point Park on the evening of July 26. The dance will be under the special direction of Prof. "Curt" Shurter and his famous orchestra of this city. Most prominent among the many attractions of the evening will be the popular Apex five of Poughkeepsie, one of the best known quartets of the Keith circuit and they will render both musical and solo numbers between and during the dances. Also Prof. Rosswell Conklin and his dancing partner Miss Edna Davis of Beacon and Newburgh respectively. These dancers are top-notch professional and exhibition dancers, having won many prizes with their ability. Duets, solos and many different musical soloe will be rendered by the members of the orchestra. The usual number of dance pieces will be held so that the dance patrons of the Casino will be given an evening of unalloyed enjoyment. Many tickets have already been disposed of, and those desiring same can secure them from the members of the orchestra. Dancing will be held from 8 until 12 o'clock.

KRUMVILLE.

Krumville, July 22.—Church services were quite well attended Sunday, but we hope to see more out the following Sunday to Sunday school, church and Christian Endeavor.

Miss Perol Burgher spent Wednesday evening with her girl friends, Edna and Ethel Krum.

There will be an ice cream social held on the Reformed Church grounds July 24. Refreshments will be for sale. Everybody come and have a good time.

Miss Anna Markle of Stone Ridge spent one day last week with Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Davis and family.

Stephen Van Dermark has purchased a car.

We are glad to see the milk truck going once more.

The Misses Ethel and Edna Krum have left this place for Sidney, where they have employment for the summer season.

Those who called on Mr. and Mrs. Albert Quick and family Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Donohue and daughter, Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Merrinew and son, Henry.

Mrs. Elmer Lyons and sons, Roland, Glenford and Burton, are now spending their vacation with Frank Lyons.

Miss Ethel Davis spent Sunday afternoon and evening with Mr. and Mrs. E. Christiana of Accord.

Berry picking is the order of the day in this vicinity.

Many from this place attended the ice cream social at Leibhardt Saturday night. All reported a good time.

Miss Helen Davis spent Tuesday working at her sister's, Mrs. C. Donohue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Donohue made a business trip to Kingston Tuesday.

Miss Ethel Davis spent Wednesday in Stone Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Merrihew spent Sunday with Mrs. Merrihew's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Fillman, of Samsonville.

PINE HILL.

Pine Hill, July 22.—The Rev. Franklin H. Miller, Episcopal clergyman of Larchmont, N. Y., and Rev. Harold E. Edwards, Episcopal clergyman of Holy Trinity Church, Middletown, assisted the pastor on Sunday last and preached inspiring sermons at all points of the charge and have kindly consented to preach again on Sunday, July 25, at Big Indian, at 2:15 and at Oliverea at 3:30. The pastor will preach at Shandaken at 11 o'clock and Rev. J. S. Van Derbilow of Fleischmanns will preach at Pine Hill at 8 p. m. If you are without a church home, we welcome you. You can help us to help others.

Rev. S. E. Sergeant, assistant Scoutmaster of the troop at Shandaken, is expected to leave with about twelve of the Scouts early next week and will spend several days camping on one of the mountain peaks. Be prepared.

The ladies of the cherokee have fixed their dates and the annual fair will be held in the Pine Hill M. E. Church hall on Thursday and Friday, August 5 and 6 and at Big Indian Thursday, August 19. Please keep these dates open and join with us and encourage the ladies in their good work.

The pastor announced on Sunday that the memorial fund has been stopped. Over half the amount has been already raised and he appealed for one hundred dollars more between now and the middle of August. He thanked the friends who had already subscribed and if you have not already placed your name on the subscription list please do not fail to help us. The names of subscribers are being handed daily to the pastor, and he is anxious that your name be on the list and that you have a part in the good work of advancing our Father's Kingdom.

SHAWANGUNK.

Shawangunk, July 21.—The annual church fair will be held on the lawn of the Shawangunk church on the afternoon and evening of Thursday, August twelfth. There will be the usual attraction of booths and refreshments and at 5:30 supper will be served until all have been served. In the evening Sohrer's full orchestra will furnish music.

A number in this section are entertaining city guests at this time.

Rev. Allen of New Paltz occupied the pulpit of Shawangunk church on Sunday.

Mrs. C. V. R. Wright is now at her home in Brunswick and is entertaining her daughter, Mrs. G. D. Lemmon and son. Mrs. Wright has recently completed a course in social work and community service in the Scudder School at West Seventy-second street and Riverside Drive, New York city.

The many friends of Mrs. Anna E. Brays are glad to know that she is gradually recovering from her recent illness.

M. S. M. Corkey has just returned from a ten day trip with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Black of Pine Bush in their car to Winchester and Staunton, Va. While at Winchester Mr. Corkey was a guest of Mrs J. N. Lebert and husband the former being from Dunderhill before her marriage. Mr. Corkey says that the beautiful wheat fields of the Shenandoah valley and the large acreage of apple trees present a contrast to the devasted valley at the time of the Civil war.

LAKETON.

Laketon, July 21.—George W. Hamilton has bought the hay on place known as DuBois Van Wagenen farm also on Frank Dolaff's hill of Walter Brown.

Lois Myers and Robbie Freden are spending their vacation at Mrs. C. Keller's.

Mrs. W. Rudolph, daughter, Florence, son, Willie, Selma Keller, Lois Myer and Robbie Freden visited Mr. and Mrs. Rhinard Rudolp Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Sagendorf and family called at Mr. and Mrs. D. Cole Sunday.

Making hay is the order of the day in this place.

The Wise Man.

The wise man must ponder on the right path in the silence of his own heart, and when found take it, though the whole multitude brayed at him with its many heads, which most probably they would—for a time.—"Conversations with Carlyle," by Sir Charles Gavan Duffy, K. C. M. G.
